

WE NOMINATE

Living Dilliard, a newspaperman's newspaperman and a remarkable teacher of writing, who at a time of life when retirement beckons many is having a "field day" in meeting the demands of a second career. This 65-year old native of Collinsville, Ill., where he still maintains his permanent home, is the first "continuing professor" to hold Princeton University's Ferris Professorship in Journalism and Public Relations. To this distinctive chair, more concerned with the impact of journalism on democratic government than with the mechanics of the profession, Dilliard brought over three decades of experience as one of the country's best-known editors.

In 1960, three years before he accepted a one-year appointment as Visiting Professor and four years before he was named full professor at Princeton, Dilliard retired as editorial page editor of the prestigious St. Louis Post-Dispatch. At that time, as he capped some 33 years with the Post-Dispatch with his brilliant contributions to its editorial columns, it was pointed out that he had written at least 10,000 pieces in 12 years, had helped blaze new trails in the fields of constitutional law and civil rights and had headed staid St. Louis into a semblance of action in areas of controversy.

Dilliard, who in his lectures here and elsewhere has stressed how the journalist assists in the process of policy formulation and execution in both the legislative and executive branches of democratic government through the communication of information and the reflection of public opinion, is a lifelong student of, and a frequently cited authority on, the U.S. Supreme Court. Strongly opposed to President Nixon's nomination of G. Harrold Carswell, he has published such definitive works as "One Man's Stand for Freedom: Mr. Justice Black and the Bill of Rights," "The Spirit of Liberty: The Papers and Addresses of Learned Hand" and "Justice Brandeis: Great American."

In years gone by, for service to human rights, Dilliard, Senior Fellow of Princeton's Council of the Humanities, received both the St. Louis B'nai B'rith Award and the Flora Lasker Award of the New York Civil Liberties Union. In 1959 the American Bar Association singled him out for his outstanding contributions to public understanding of the judicial system, while a decade later, in the company of the executive editor of the Louisville Times and Courier-Journal and the former chief of Newsweek's Washington Bureau, he was honored with the William Allen White Foundation Award for exemplifying the ideals of that eminent journalist.

A member of the Class of 1927 at the University of Illinois, and a Nieman Fellow at Harvard in the 1930's in the formative years of a pioneering program, Dilliard in the Middle West will long be remembered as a Trustee of the University of Illinois, a role in which he earned the title of "The Great Dissenter." Following World War II service in Europe with the Supreme Headquarters, Allied Expeditionary Force, he was in charge of information control for the allied military government in Bavaria, supervising the re-establishment and revitalization of German newspapers and earning decorations from the U.S., British and French governments.

For never hesitating — in the highest traditions of American journalism and a broadly based liberalism — to speak to his convictions; for feeling that the "generation gap" adds new dimensions to the excitement and challenges of teaching in a university today; for his achievements in two closely allied professions; he is

STATE WANTS TRACT
For Battletield Park. After keeping everyone in suspense for months, the state's Department of Conservation and Economic Development has decided it wants the Weller tract — all of it — for an addition to Battletield Park.

Joseph Truncer, head of the department's Division of Parks, Forests and Recreation, has informed Princeton Township officials of the state's decision. It is considered "in the public interest," Mr. Truncer stated, to acquire the land for Battletield Park.

His department will negotiate with the Institute for Advanced Study, which owns the land, hoping for action by mid-summer, Mr. Truncer said.

The state's decision amounts to condemnation, according to attorneys, although Minot C. Morgan Jr., business manager of the Institute, said this week on learning of the decision, "I don't think the door is slammed shut."

The Institute bought the Weller tract for faculty housing, and had worked out a cluster plan, in fact, several plans. "We're now up to number 13-C!" Mr. Morgan said ruefully — which it hoped would meet the approval of Township planners and neighbors.

The acreage lies off Mercer Road near the junction with Quaker Bridge Road, and abuts the property of the Society of Friends. Quakers have made common cause with battletield historians and conservationists in press the state into buying up the property.

"I am surprised at the decision of the state to feel the need for the entire Weller tract," Mr. Morgan said in a statement. "We've had frequent conversations with Mr. Truncer, the Princeton Battletield Committee and other interested citizens, and we had hoped that a compromise solution could be reached. We shall continue our efforts in this direction."

A. C. Reeves Hicks, who has represented the Institute, estimates cost of the land at $150,000 to $175,000.

HOUSING REPORT

Surveys and Proposals. Princeton's community-wide housing survey will be formally announced and explained next Tuesday in a press conference to be held by the specialist who will undertake the survey.

At Township Committee's public session next Monday night, Theodore Vial, president of Princeton Community Housing, Inc., will give a progress report on low-and-middle income housing.

Meanwhile, a Borough official has suggested formation of a cooperative development corporation to buy up available land or multiple housing.

SYMBOLIC ACTION: The directional sign for the Princeton Inn which has long stood at the corner of Mercer Street and University Place was removed last week, forecasting the closing of the Inn in June. The inn has been on the Princeton scene since 1924. (Staff Photo)

PCH. Monday night, Mr. Vial is expected to tell Committee that PCH plans to use all 200 units authorized by the Township Master Plan. Of these, 50 will be low-income public housing, arranged with the Borough's Housing Authority, which is the Township's agent in construction of low-cost public housing. So far, there are no architectural drawings. The site is still a land-locked 23 acres between Terhune and Mt. Lucas.

Arts Calendar for May

The Arts Council of Princeton presents its listing of outstanding events for May on page 25 of this issue of TOWN TOPICS. A report on forthcoming lectures, plays, concerts and similar events of interest, it is sponsored this month by Palmer Square, Inc. and the Princeton Bank and Trust Co.

"We feel there's a great socio-economic advantage to an economic mix of low and middle income housing," Mr. Vial states. "The 50 low-income units will be mixed with the rest, and it may not even be the same 50 units all the time."

If a family's income rises above the eligibility limit for public housing, he explains, the family wouldn't necessarily have to move out. The apartment might simply be removed from the low-income designation.

Co-Op? Borough Councilman

Alice Male has proposed a cooperative development corporation to acquire remaining parcels of land, plus air-rights over Borough parking lots, for construction of whatever kinds of housing the survey shows the Princeton community to need.

Individuals and groups could buy in, so to speak, and development might contribute the land they own as their share. The cooperative would keep control, so that the mix of vount-out, rich-poor could be maintained, Mrs. Male proposes.

She suggests that the corporate structure of Princeton Community Housing could be altered to accommodate the development corporation. It is possible, she suggests, that state money might not be needed.

Survey. The Borough-Township housing survey will be directed for the Princeton Regional Planning Board by Dr. George Sternlieb, director of the Center for Urban Social Science Research at Rutgers.

Dr. Sternlieb, joined by Township Mayor John D. Wallace and Borough Mayor Robert W. Cawley, Planning Board chairman Hans K. Sander and vice-chairman Norman Williams, will describe the form the survey will take.

MEDIA!
(Got a Fuse?) A mixture of media galloped and swirled around the Community Park gym Tuesday night as school board members and audience took a mid-meeting break to find out whether the medium really is the message.
It seems to be.

The occasion was a display of media ("audio-visual" material) in the old-fashioned term) used in Princeton public schools. Demonstrators were students from grades one through high school. Co-ordinators were Mrs. Jean McDonough, who's in charge of media in the schools, and Kenneth Bowers, science teacher in the Middle School.

Unaccustomed to such displays of power, the gym trembled with a fuse. But once that was solved, it was just a matter of keeping the 16mm projector and the dry mounter turned off, and making everybody with high-powered equipment take turns.

Pictures. At one exhibit, Middle School boys in a photography class proudly demonstrated the sign over their table: "We took them, we developed them, we printed them." Pans and an enlarger showed how it was done. At another table, third-graders were busily making art films by coloring the bare film itself with special crayons. Reeled through the projector, the results were psychedelic indeed. You can do the same thing with slides, but film is a lot more exciting to watch.

A high school student, his sophisticated 35mm camera held in a close-up frame, shot colored photographs from a National Geographic article to illustrate the development of the silk worm for a second grade science class. The accompanying tape will be recorded from the science article, its language whittled down to second grade size.

Lawrence Mansier, of the high school's English faculty, showed a video-tape of William Cook, high school English teacher, made by Mr. Mansier, four sophomores and a senior.

In the four and one-half minute presentation, Mr. Cook gives six readings on "the black experience." The presentation is called "The Search for Roots" and will be shown throughout the school system. Mr. Mansier said his students worked four hours to produce exactly the four and one-half minutes they and Mr. Cook felt was "right."

A slide projector which can be used with tape, showed the first sequence of a 15-lesson project in Black History. It can also be used with a stereo tape recorder, synchronized and automatic. Boys and girls from the youngest grades displayed small tape recorders attached to earphones. Put on the earphones, switch on the recorder and a Middle School student's voice reads slowly from a first-grade primer ("now turn the page...") giving a helpful push to a first-grader who's having reading difficulties.

facilities. Middle School youngsters who may themselves be having troubles got a real morale boost from helping the little ones, teachers explained. Departing from the electronic, the exhibit included a big table of tactile math aids: sleek Cuisenaire rods, cubes and squares; translucent, colored shapes; pure as geometry itself; the "Vector" game — all of them samples from the Math Audio Visual Media Center at Valley Road.

About 50 students demonstrated the equipment and took part in the evening.

TRUSTEES WILL MEET
At Adult School Session. The first organizational meeting of the Adult School Board of Trustees will take place at the Public Library on Monday at 8:15 p.m.

Mrs. James J. Johnson, newly-elected chairman, will conduct his meeting which will deal with the government of permanent committees and selection of the curriculum to be offered in the fall term. The meeting is on Thursday, September 24. Mrs. Alfred Markwardt, who was elected curriculum chairman at the annual meeting, will list the full roster of courses and teachers and assign new members to various curriculum sub-committees.

Mrs. Johnson will present new candidates to the board as submitted by the nominating committee. New trustees who will join the board that evening are: Professor: A. Austen, Richard Hwang, Mrs. Henry Powner and Mrs. Richard Wilhelm.

Other officers who were elected at the meeting were Mrs. Ernest Linton, secretary; Mrs. Dwight Burt, treasurer; Mrs. Elmer Alpert, nominating chairman.

Mrs. Johnson has asked that persons with suggestions for possible future courses contact her so that their ideas may be acted upon wherever possible.

PRIMARY RACE COMING
For GOP Congressman. A Princeton Republican and another from East Windsor Township have filed for their party's nomination in the race for U.S. Congressman from the Fourth District (Mercer, Hunterdon, Sussex and Warren counties).

The Princetonian who entered the race last week, just prior to Thursday's deadline, is the Rev. Robert C. Andrews, of 83 Allison Road. He will oppose Edward Costigan, magistrate in East Windsor, for nomination on the Republican ticket.

The primary election will be held Tuesday, June 2. The winner will oppose Frank Thompson, Jr., Democratic incumbent for the past 16 years.

WHO'S RUNNING?

Seven Candidates. The slates for next fall's municipal elections are now full; in fact, the Township Republican slate is overflowing and there will be a contest in the June 2 primary. The Regular Organization Republican, endorsed by Republican regulars, will be Charles E. Meyers, 90 Dodds Lane, a newcomer to Township politics.

His opponent will be William H. Cherry, who has filed as a "Princeton Township Republican." This means there will not be the "free primary" Dr. Cherry had said last week he still hoped for. In a so-called "free" primary, both candidates would be under the Regular Organization Republican label.

Republican officials in the Township emphasize that they feel Dr. Cherry should make the race, even though Mr. Meyer is their candidate. "We told him we thought he ought to run, if that's what he felt he wanted to do," said one.

Township Democrats getting in just under the wire for last Thursday's filing deadline, have chosen Julius J. ("Jay") Bleiman, 28 Harrison Street, associate director of the graduate program at the Woodrow Wilson School, Princeton University.

There is only one seat available on Township Committee and Mr. Bleiman will meet the winner of the Meyer-Cherry contest.

In the Borough, the Republicans, also going right down to the deadline hour, selected Alex Wojciechowicz, 273 Hamilton Avenue, to be the running mate of Charles L. Taggart, 57 Cleveland Lane, whose candidacy was announced last week.

Their opponents for the two seats on Borough Council will be Democrats Joseph P. Moore, 14 South Street, and Martin E. Lombardo, 329 Nassau. Their candidacy was announced last week also.

Mr. Meyer, in the Township, has received the endorsement of Mayor John D. Wallace, and outgoing Committeeman William L. Wilson.

"I strongly endorse Mr. Meyer," said Mayor Wallace.

Charles E. Meyer

Julius J. Bleiman

Alex Wojciechowicz

Mr. Wilson decided not to run again, but in Mr. Meyer, we have an extremely well-qualified candidate who is progressive in the way that Mr. Wilson, Committeeman Dean Chase and I are progressive."

In his endorsement, Mr. Wilson referred to the candidate's "sensible and humanitarian outlook on the responsibilities of Princeton Township government."

Mr. Wilson also noted the present composition of Committee, with its 3-2 Republican majority. If a Democrat wins in November, he pointed out, Mr. Wallace might not again be elected mayor. In the Township, the "mayor" is not elected as such; he is chosen by Committeemen from their own number.

The Democrat's candidate, Mr. Bleiman, was graduated in 1942 from the College of the City of New York. He holds a B.S. from West Point and is a lieutenant-colonel in the Army, retired. He was assistant for strategic planning, Policy Planning Staff, Office of the Assistant Secretary of Defense, serving in the Pentagon from 1963 to 1968.

Mr. Bleiman came to the Woodrow Wilson School in July, 1968, at the same time he retired from the Army.

Mr. Wojciechowicz was graduated from Princeton University in 1961 with a degree in aeronautical engineering. He is active in Republican politics and has been committeeman in his district for three years.

Mr. Wojciechowicz owns his own firm, Alto Development Corporation of Farmingdale, Ala.—to manufacturers specialty electronic insulating products.

SCHOOL BOARD MEETS
In Brief Session. Student grievances at Princeton High School will be handled from now on by a seven-member Grievance Committee to be chosen by lot.

Volunteers who would like to serve as the two community members (not necessary to have children in PHS) should write Peter Bruce, 77 Lenox Drive, or call Peter—he's a PHS junior—at 324-0673, by May 11.

The grievance policy was outlined Tuesday night by young Bruce at the regular Board of Education meeting. Besides the two community members, the committee will have three students and two faculty members. It will consider problems that haven't been solved by discussion between student and either guidance counselor, department head, dean of faculty, the person with whom the student has the grievance, or anybody willing to serve as third party.

Cohen on Leave. Murray Cohen, principal of Johnson Park was granted a sabbatical for next year. He will join an advisory team touring school districts in Leicestershire, England. In his absence, Eugene Birnthe educational zone, and the actual school costs incurred by the Township for all the children who live in those apartments—chiefly in the Hoboken and Maple buildings.

The University's school-age population has been diluted by subsequent construction of the Lawrence Apartments and the new apartments on Harrison Street. This means the University has built up a lot of credit, and the consensus is that the agreement, which expired last August, should be dropped. The University has said it's willing to renegotiate, if necessary.

Mayor Wallace has assured Township home-owners that the city will not plan any change in the present burglar-alarm system.

Many home-owners look directly into Township police headquarters and police wish more would do so. A commercial firm earlier this month, alarmed of these home-owners with a letter stating, erroneously, that the Township planned to switch the system. Not so, Mayor Wallace says. Alternatives were listed studied, but they weren't worth the expense to home-owners.

Police, Yes. The P.D.'s 76th anniversary is being celebrated in the bicentennial of the United States has won Township Committee endorsement, the mayor announced.

"See 'Mailbox,' page 21." The concept of a multi-state approach is much more meaningful than a great big world's fair in one city," the mayor observed.

Committee will write its endorsement to the New Jersey State Historical Society and to the National Bicentennial Commission.

Because of a new state law allowing five instead of three years on bond-anticipation notes, the Township will only have to go to the bond market once this year.

The issue will be a "modest" $175,000 for the Great Road sewer. Assessment payments will pay off the bonds, so taxpayers at large won't be out a nickel.

BACK TO COURT

With Shopping Center. George Warnecke, owner of the Princeton Shopping Center, still apparently wants to build a new A & P and an addition to Bamberger's and so he's back in court with Princeton Township.

Mr. Warnecke has filed an appeal with the Appellate Division

The Shrinking Violet

The flower on My window-sill Can't go out yet The wet's too chill.

April finally warmed up, allowing a small plus sign for average temperature over a 30-day period. It was the first month in 1970 to do so.

The word "humid" has suddenly begun to creep into weather forecasts, and its presence could mean showers by Thursday afternoon. The rain and the chill may just be a part of the post now — the May reports a pleasant weekend is in store, with the temperature in the 70s.

of Superior Court asking for a reversal of Superior Court Judge Frank J. Kingfield's January ruling in favor of the Township.

Judge Kingfield ruled that the Township's site-plan review board is legal and that any plans to enlarge Bamberger's or build a new A & P must be subject to the site-plan review board.

The site plan board had rejected the Center's building plans, chiefly because board members didn't think the plans allowed enough room for pedestrian and vehicular traffic. Mr. Warnecke doesn't acknowledge jurisdiction of the site plan board and took the matter to court.

If Mr. Warnecke wins his appeal, presumably he could build the Bamberger addition and the new supermarket without any control by the site plan review board.

DRIVER HURT SERIOUSLY

In Route 206 Crash. A 54-year old Robbinsville man remains in serious condition in the intensive care section at Princeton Hospital this week, following the collision of his light van truck with a car on Route 206 early Saturday morning, a quarter-mile south of Cherry Valley Road.

Clarence Wiley, a delivery driver for Hill's Market, 33 Witherspoon Street, sustained a fractured skull and facial bones, fractured legs and severe lacerations of the head. The Hill delivery truck he was driving was a total loss.

Edward Eposito, 24, 9 Harris Road, the other driver, received a mild concussion and contusions of the right shoulder and head. Thirty-one sutures were used at the hospital to close lacerations of his scalp and chin.

A passenger in the Eposito car, Lynwood R. Pergerdon, 21, 282 John Street, was treated for a mild concussion and released. Details of what caused the 1:54 a.m. accident were not available from Township police, who have not been able to talk to Mr. Wiley. Sgt. Jack Petrone is conducting the investigation.

Two Women Ticketed. Two women were charged with careless driving last week by police in separate accidents in the Borough.

Margaret S. Pease, 69, 35 Cedar Lane, struck a parked station wagon on Nassau Street near Princeton Avenue when she pulled too far to the right to make room for oncoming traffic. The impact forced the parked car over a curb and into a tree. It is owned by Helen C. Farnum, 315 Nassau.

Mrs. Pease was taken by Pil Pil Holiday in his patrol car to Princeton Hospital where she was treated for chipped front teeth and self-inflicted teeth bites.

Pil Charles Harris conducted the careless driving summons. The mishap occurred Saturday evening at 7:10.

Addie M. Colvin's troubles began a few minutes after 1 Friday morning when she attempted to pull from the curb on Lytle Street.

Instead of straightening, her car crossed Lytle, jumped the curb, police said, and struck a large tree. Mrs. Colvin, who lives at 122 Birch Avenue refused medical attention for a contusion of her forehead and small cut on her knee.

She told the investigating officer, Sgt. John J. Bellow that she had been talking to her passenger and did not see the tree until she hit it.

SMOKE IN HOSPITAL

Minor Fire Halted. A minor fire in a laundry chute and closet near the first-floor dispensary caused smoke to filter up through three floors of Princeton Hospital last week.

Cause of the Thursday morning fire has not been determined. It was extinguished by the hospital's sprinkler system, although Sgt. Robert Anderson and Patrolmen Joseph Wilhelm, Thomas Michaud and Bernard Loharoff of the Borough police responded to the 7:14 call. One piece of fire apparatus was used to help with the ventilation.

Damage, which was slight, was confined to the closet and chute. No patients were evacuated.

Some girls aren't sweet. They loath chocolates, can't cook, and call their parents by their first names. As for that dream house in the country, it's more likely a chic city apartment. And the man is a good friend, not a boy friend. Ethereal pastel shades are out, rather deep striking hues of blue, purple, stark black. Sam or Tracy (that's their name of course) smile infrequently, but when they do, kingdoms topple. Some girls aren't sweet; they're knockout. Ladybug is for some girls, not for everyone. Show us double breasted rain-or-shine coat of crisp navy or natural, "Yachtmen's Cloth." Sizes 3-15, $45.

STUDY CENTER NEEDS MONEY: Students, yes, but a little short of cash. The Princeton Study Center, without school board financial support because of Title I cutbacks, has launched a fund drive. Tutors (young man in center) and pupils (foreground and rear) meet each evening in the Princeton Public Library.

INCOME GAP IS $7000

For Study Center. For the first time since it was founded seven years ago, the Princeton Study Center is making a broad appeal to the community for funds to support its program. The goal is $7,000.

Due to the lack of Federal "Title I" funds, the Study Center has had no financial assistance from the Princeton Regional Board of Education this year. Income in the past has come from the Board and from an interested group of Princetonians.

The Princeton Study Center has provided educational services without charge in the following areas: Tutoring on a one-to-one basis for Middle School and High School students; a study hall at the Princeton Public Library with volunteer help at hand;

Also, a summer study program at a special day camp giving close individual guidance to the pupils; a tutoring program for children in the lower grades on Wednesdays; and an adult literacy program, teaching basic reading and writing skills.

Most of the work is performed by volunteers. Hundreds of Princeton children have enrolled in the various programs since the Study Center first opened its doors.

The Study Center hopes to continue its services, in fact, to expand them. Donations may be sent to Peter M. Grosz, treasurer, Princeton Study Center, P.O. Box 373, Princeton.

THREE B&E'S RELATED

Borough Police Believe. Three break-ins during the weekend were the work of same person, Borough police believe.

At 7:30 Sunday morning, they received a call from Irving Robinson, manager of the Phillips 66 Service Station on Hulfish and Witherspoon streets, that a small door leading to his office had been pried open. However, nothing appears to have been taken, police said.

Twenty-five minutes later, an employee of Palmer Square, Inc. discovered the lower panel of the front door of Kopp's Cycle Shop, 14 John Street, had been broken in.

Investigating, police discover:

ed a cash register had been smashed. Owner Frederick Kuhn reported about $210 missing and an $80 bicycle. A second bicycle needing repairs, which police believe was also stolen, was found abandoned at the lower end of John Street.

On Monday morning, Orion P. Labaw, manager of the S. B. Harris department store, 32 Witherspoon Street, called to report a weekend entry. Taken were 10 men's shirts, a dozen pairs of socks and other clothing and $12 in cash and coins with a combined value of $80.50. Police later recovered almost $20 worth of the clothing in a parking lot in the rear of the Public Library.

The front door was thought to have been forced to gain entry, although police said there were no pry marks. Detective Robert McAvonia is continuing the investigation.

Earlier in the week, police reported the entry of the office of Brune Interiors, 245 Nassau Street.

Police said that the intruder slipped the lock of the front door to gain entry. Once inside, he ransacked the desk of Donald Brune, taking $2. A piggy bank, atop a bookshelf yielded an estimated $40. John G. Kellogg, president of the firm, placed the theft between 6:15 last Wednesday evening and 8:45 the next morning.

Township police report the ransacking of a Hartley Avenue home between 9 and 5:45 p.m. on Friday. Two bedrooms were searched but police report the only items missing are 15 credit cards.

The owner did not discover the theft until 8:30 that evening when a sidewalk edger taken from a tool shed on the property was hurled through a 3x7-foot sliding glass window of the house. Police, who declined to reveal the name of the owner, said they believed the window breaking was the work of youths in the area.

News Of The THEATRES

FOLK-ROCK

Sebastian, Seals & Crofts, The Lovin' Spoonful's founder, John Sebastian, will be the headliner this Saturday at 8 at Alexander Hall, followed on the billing by Seals & Crofts. Sebastian has more than one hundred published songs on his record, including most of the Spoonful's big hits. Recently, he's been working on film music, and his scores include "You're A Big Boy Now," "What's Up, Tiger Lily?" and "The Magic Christian." He also did the music for Dustin Hoffman's Broadway hit, "Jimmy Shine."

Seals and Crofts, both from Texas, have been playing together more than a decade. They began when they were in high school during the good old days of rock 'n' roll, and they've changed as the rock scene itself has changed.

Listeners describe their music as a combination of Simon & Garfunkel, the Everly Brothers and the Incredible String Band.

BACK TO NAPA VALLEY With "Happy Fella." Last year, it was River City, Iowa, with the music man. This year, it's Napa Valley, California with that happy fella.

Both, of course, are P.J. & B. spring musicals. The Frank Loesser "opera," "The Most Happy Fella," will be presented this year in McCarter four times. Evening performances are scheduled for 8:30 Thursday, May 7 and Friday and Saturday, and there's a special family matinee on the books for Saturday. Tickets now at the boxoffice.

The 1936 Broadway hit is based on Sidney Howard's Pulitzer-prize winner, "They Knew What They Wanted (1935) and tells about the prosperous, middle-aged Italian grape grower, Tony, who orders a mail-order bride after he sees her in a restaurant.

Tony will be sung by Steve Kimbrough and Rosabella, the bride, will be Carole Peterson. (She was Marian the Librarian last year, in "The Music Man.") Others in the cast are Gretta Farrell, who has been in many P.J. & B. productions including "Music Man" in which he was Professor Harold Hill; Don Gustafson, Reid White and Robert Rich who will sing "Abandonment," Abby Adams and Doug Langdon.

TEENS ON PREVIEW

At McCarter and in Trenton, A preview of the big state-wide 1971 Teens Arts Festival will be held at McCarter, and at the State Museum in Trenton Tuesday through Thursday, May 12-14.

The idea is to discover and encourage creative young people and give them a chance to show what they can do in the arts.

Original and interpretative drama will be featured at McCarter on Tuesday and Thursday. Dance, ensemble music and multi-media will be on the program for Wednesday. All programs will offer three different programs of original films, small music groups and readings of original writing. These programs will start at 10 a.m. each day, and there will be a repeat performance at 1 p.m.

Entries in visual arts and crafts will be on display at the Museum throughout the month of May.

All programs and exhibitions are free, and the sponsors hope that teenagers, their parents and teachers especially will attend. Reservations should be made in advance at McCarter 921-8700, or the State Museum, 292-6347.

Sponsors, besides the theatre and museum, are the New Jersey State Council on the Arts and the New Jersey State Department of Education.

Intime Drama a Rarity in This Excellence

At the risk of repetition let me make this clearly known: Theatre Intime is the most consistently excellent group about. "The Persecution and Assassination of Jean-Paul Marat as Performed by the Inmates of the Asylum of Charenton Under the Direction of the Marquis de Sade," a play by Peter Weiss currently on the stage of Murray Theater, will shake you to your bones if you see it.

This is why you must see it: because it is unforgettable, wounding and scarring; it is total. It is a play of actions, not contemplations, and because we know so little of actions, we must cease thinking for a while — suspend ourselves, expose ourselves, make ourselves vulnerable — and then re-engage with whomever it may be afterward. (I want to list some more adjectives for this evening: complete, relentless, dynamic, powerful, dreadful.)

The gray world one enters is a prison for the insane: arches, walls, dim lights; it is a prison indeed: nothing more than its name allows: desolate, the bones of a place, a cage. The oppressed within are grotesques: paranoics, melancholies, manic depressives, maniacs, monsters.

Under the direction of the Marquis de Sade, the excessive, purely cynical theoretician of degradation and horror, the cronies and scarecrows become drooling puppets, maimed dolls, marionettes awry: extensions of Sade's wild genius. The play is a close, truly ours, a pain somehow just, because we are human.

Coldness Is a Triumph. This is truly a mad-show, and Sade is the lord of misrule. The entire coldness of this production is nothing less than a triumph. More than 20 madmen are on stage and they are insolent and challenging; often they cannot be heard. They yell ceaseless, grueling messages; they insinuate themselves into the entire world, a totality of insane action excluding us, we think, until we are trapped (as inmates ourselves, and suddenly insane).

Illusions of thought or tradition or relationship are not replaced as we watch; they are killed. It is not what is that is shattering, but what happens; and what we can manage to say about the slow explosions onstage is pointless and stupid because our words are not actions. Therefore in this context of art words mean nothing because they do not do anything.

Whatever illusions of rationality are left — survivors — are not to be spoken about. The revolution we witness is a profoundly uncomfortable and oddly welcome experience, and it inexorably demands our attention.

"Perfect Demons." Yes, attend this play — I mean what I say: attend, give it the fullness of your eyes and ears. Richard B. Williams has created a brainlike cell populated with figures from Breughel or Bosch, perfect demons in the imagination of the original sadist.

You may remember a few players: each is stunning. The leering herald, Sade, and Charlotte Corday seem hauntingly perfect. Larry Strichman's direction/choreography is a wholly achieved, organic action in itself. Constantly varying subtly in modulation and tone, yet continually explosive, the actions on stage are obviously exhausting, bruising, and wracking to the players.

So it is also for us. This play cannot be ignored or dismissed and it cannot be left behind. Its sensations are awful and striking in the most literal senses of these words. For the witness it is two hours of crisis, illusion, disillusion, and madness; and the witness must deal within himself with all witnessed pain. In even a lifetime of care for art or drama, you will find this only rarely, and it is thrilling when you do.

PLAYHOUSE

Zabruskie Point (now playing!) The theme seems to be that in the eyes of Michelangelo Antonioni, affluent America is spiritually sick.

He expresses this in a number of ways — through emphasis on police brutality, student ferment, lecherous minded boys obsessed with sex and wealth and so on, with the ending even more graphic.

Plot has never been one of the strong points of the Italian director, and this film is no exception. What there is can be put briefly: a campus militant shoots a policeman in a skirmish; he flees in a private plane; he steals from an airport and heads for the Mojave Desert, where he meets a girl secretary. They make love on the desert at Zabruskie Point, after which he flies the plane to Los Angeles and is shot by a policeman.

The film is beautifully photographed by Alfio Contini. Zabruskie Point is a fascinating landscape of sterile river beds in white and gray. The leads are played by newcomers: Mark Frechette and provocative Darla Halprin. Their performances were obviously rigidly controlled by the director, and they served him well.

PRINCE

The Only Game in Town (now playing!) The tension and atmosphere of the gambling tables are beautifully captured in this film version of Frank Gillyroy's amusing stage play. It's about two average people, played by Warren Beatty and Elizabeth Taylor, who manage to rise above the commonplace.

George Stevens has directed the film with loving care. Beatty

IT'S NEW To Us

PLASTICS MOVE OUTDOORS
As Garden Furniture. The chemists are now providing us with outdoor furniture, and you can see it at Bernard Cooke Associates, 909 State Road.

It's the Idlewild collection from California — cool white, light weight and very durable — made of polyvinyl-chloride. There are several types of chairs, tables, and an adjustable chaise. And once you sink into the marvelously soft cushions, you'll never get the garden weeded.

"Turn the hose on it," Barney Cooke says, "and it won't rust, warp or peel. Or use a detergent on heavy soil. The upholstery can be wiped clean or sponged with a mild soap. It's truly all-weather furniture!"

We saw a wide sampling of garden and patio furniture at the Cooke Associates: wrought iron in soft green, traditional black, or white or yellow. Attractive, smoked glass tops on the tables. The glass is "Steel-lex," which means that it is hard to break. Some have cushions in decorator prints. We liked a five-piece set that sells for $117. The wrought iron is by Arlington House.

The range of Cooke Associates' projects is always interesting as the firm incorporates designer and decorator talents as well as drapery, upholstery and cabinetry services.

Two households now have "fireplace walls" through the Cooke efforts, adding a fire-place and built-in cabinets for books, hi-fi, and so on. The firm is doing the new offices of Applied Data Research and plans for interior design of a bank are in the works.

They are doing a lawyer's office, and for close to a year now have been involved with a new house that is just going up, working from the architectural drawings. The firm also has a continuing assignment for the Holiday Houses on Gardeau State Parkway.

You could drop in there with a minor problem—the need for upholstery for one chair. You can browse through the fabric books—and there are nearly 100—for drapery or slip-cover patterns. A decorator will lend a hand.

If you don't need a design service, that is, if you just want to buy a piece of furniture, a rug, or fabric, the decorator will give you all the professional guidance he can, and there's no fee charged. If you want help in a floor plan or a room arrangement, there's a moderate hourly fee.

"Sometimes we're emolored by the architect," Mr. Cooke says. "Other times by the client. The architects realize that we aren't going to do anything in his house until we have cleared it with him. Often they just turn the job over to us because they are busy and trust us. Our designers have a knowledge of architecture—for instance, they know why some walls can't be taken down."

Most people could design their house interior themselves, he believes, "but they don't have the courage. So we talk with them and find out what they really want to do, show them enough sampling to allow them to develop their own convictions."

"We do a survey with them, talk to all the family, and then we assemble ideas and point out to them the areas available. The only thing we do is keep them within the good taste of the design. We really work to get the client happy satisfied. You know, there are decorators who rush in and say, 'Here's what you have to do.' Well-I-I, it isn't that easy."

 no effort at all to stem the tide of coffee lovers. On the contrary, Andy Steiner has now on his shelves 22 different types of coffee beans plus the Gourmet's open stock of beans that you can taste and mix.
 Curiously enough, the most popular of the packaged beans is the most expensive — Jamaica "Blue Mountain" beans which sell for $2.25 for 12 ounces. The others, which range in price from $1.35, include French Roast Coffee, Columbia Excelsio, Java Aravica, Brazil Santos, Mexican Mocha-Java, and Costa Rica.

Gourmet will grind the coffee for you, or sell you a grinder if you'd rather fresh-grind just before your meal. So if you haven't had a good cup of coffee in ages, here's your pioneering chance. The Gourmet's open stock of beans, by the way, are $1.35 for a full pound.
 While you're there, you'll find a number of new things — some amusing, some very necessary and a few occasionally useful. For the customers who have kept asking "Haven't you anything bigger?" when staff members would point out steamers for lobster or clams, Gourmet now has a two-and-one-half foot high steamer that will hold sixty quarts.

For party-givers a huge jug in brown ceramic with a spigot for dispensing liquid refreshment or pool, the Vera-designed beach towels — so gay and amusing as well as beautiful ($8).
 Drifting around, you'll see ten different types of handi pans. If you know what each is for, you're really a specialist. The Gourmet also has the Scandinavian krumkake iron with the intricate tracery of design on the inside of the lid and bottom. You make a thin, sweet pancake with it that is something like a cookie.

To amuse yourself or the bride-to-be, Gourmet has framed prints featuring scampi spaghetti and skish-kabob, with hand-lettered recipes underneath. And in clear glass, a cake plate and cover on a high-stemmed base.

dren plays the role of the housewife who enjoys a discreet affair on the side — until her husband (Michel Bouque) discovers her lover (Maurice Ronet) and kills him in actually funny murder. The director is Claude Chabrol, whose "Les Biches" has appeared here. His style is elegant, ironic and strong in contrasts.

Wild in the Streets (Saturday thru Mon.) focuses on a teenage pop-rock idol, played by Christopher Jones) who becomes the first acid-beat flower-child to get into Congress. Hal Holbrook is the young liberal Senator who tries to bridge the generation gap, and Shelly Winters is the rock star's mother who recognizes him on television as he paralyzes the country. It's a funny and shrewd commentary on the youth culture.

The Red and The White (Next Tues. & Wed., May 5 & 6) follows clothes between Bolsheviks and White Russian soldiers in a rural section of the Volga following the 1917 revolution. It is a magnificent tableau of warfare, pointing out man's inhumanity to his fellow man. An engrossing film, it is directed by the Hungarian Miklos Jancso.

Sant' Angelo's Whimsies

Sant'Angelo is a young designer of jewelry and accessories with a studio on 38th Street in New York. He works primarily for the French couturiers, and has become the craze in this country through the impact of Vogue and Harper's Bazaar.

His designs are large and dominant, lending to make a simple costume quite chic. And you'll see some of his work at Gallery 100, the snake bracelet, for instance, or the mesh scarves that drape softly to the head, or at the neck or even at the waist. He has an amusing take-off on the Indian headband, choosing brown and white cording interlaced with gold for the band, ending it with a fringe of the head in a big pompadour.

And there are belts and "spinner" necklaces, and more.

Topics Of The Town
Acting Principal Florence Burke and everyone has decided to negotiate with Christ Congregation Church, across Houghton Road, to see whether church-owned vacant land could be converted to a People's Park.

A new parking lot for the high school is being constructed on the piece of lawn at the south side of the school facing Houghton. The grassy stretch has been a favorite sunning spot for students.

On Wednesday, sophomores and freshmen, some wearing flowers in their hair, began to plant a small tree in the middle of the site to protest construction. Four or five other students found shovels and began to fill in what the bulldozers had dug out, and before long several dozen students were replanting sod.

But most PHS students want a parking lot (it has been a plank on Student Administration Day election "platforms" for many years), and before long some of the pro-lot students pulled up the newly planted tree.

A few clouds of mud and a few water-filled balloons sailed through the Earth Day air. Then a firecracker exploded and Miss Burke called a halt to the goings-on.

Twelve students, representing pros and cons on the parking lot, met with Miss Burke in her office and it was decided to explore the possibilities of a new sward across Houghton.

One student said, "Negotiation proved to be a viable means for settling differences." Miss Burke said, "Discussion was fruitful."

RIDING THE CAROUSEL CAT TO THE STUART GARDEN PARTY: On their way to the May Garden Party held for the benefit of the Stuart Country Day School are (from left) Emily and Charlie Reeves and Carol and Les O'Donoghue. The children's parents, Mr. and Mrs. David K. Reeves and Mr. and Mrs. John O'Donoghue are committee members for this year's affair scheduled for the 23rd. The carousel cat is owned by Mrs. Robert B. Meyner and will be displayed as part of the Carousel of Amusements.

COLLECTIONS ON VIEW
At Stuart Garden Party. An amusing display of artifacts, ancient and modern, from collections in the Princeton area will highlight the Garden Party planned Saturday, May 23 at the Stuart Country Day School. The benefit party and exhibition will be given by area Sacred Heart alumnae, from 5 to 7 on the school grounds.

For this third annual affair, a festive atmosphere will be set by Japanese kites, strolling Gypsy minstrels, champagne, hors d'oeuvres and a bevy of young ladies who will distribute prize balloons.

The exhibit is to feature 19th century toys and banks from the famous collection of Mr. and Mrs. Bernard Barenholtz, and the collection of pre-Columbian whistles belonging to Gillett Griffin.

Also displayed will be model railroad exhibits of the Pacific Southern lines of Rocky Hill. The sailors' folk art collection of Sam McDowell, a complete doll house from Mrs. George C. Young, the toy soldier collection of Neal O'Connor, and the Little Orphan Annie memorabilia belonging to Franklin A. Steele.

Governor and Mrs. William T. Cahill, Princeton University President and Mrs. Robert F. Goheen, Mr. and Mrs. J. Robert McNeil, and Mr. J. Lionberger Davis have been named honorary chairmen of the event. Mr. and Mrs. Franklin A. Steele, and Mr. and Mrs. James J. Hughes Jr., are co-chairmen of a committee that includes the area's Sacred Heart alumnae and their husbands, as well as mothers and fathers of Stuart students. This year's chairmen, assisted by their husbands, are: Mrs. David K. Reeves, exhibit; Mrs. John P. Murray Jr., design; Mrs. Richard C. Flournoy and Mrs. Holt A. Murray, staging; Mrs. John T. Henderson Jr., publicity; Mrs. Dudley A. Eppel and Mrs. Charles F. Fischer, refreshments.

Also: Mrs. John J. Louchlin, champagne; Mrs. Charles H. Place and Mrs. David J. Scott, balloons; Mrs. John P. Belli and Mrs. M. John O'Donoghue, hostesses; Mrs. John E. Kuser and Mrs. William M. Lanning, invitations; Mrs. William L. J. Royal and Mrs. Harry J. Newman, treasurer; Miss Lee Flournoy and Miss Ellen Murray, junior committee.

WATCH IS STOLEN

From Kalmas Store. A $35 women's wristwatch was stolen Thursday from The Watch Shop, 84 Chambers Street.

Owner Henry Kalmas told police that the clerk had to go to the rear of the store shortly after two men wearing light hats and light topcoats entered. When she returned that watch was missing.

CHARGES UPHOLD

In Hickett's case, University Provost William G. Bowen has upheld charges against 12 Princeton students for their part in disrupting the March 5 speech by Secretary of the Interior Walter J. Hickel, after reviewing the students' appeal that their case be dismissed.

With two exceptions, one relating to the conditions of disciplinary probation and one affecting the length of suspension for three seniors, Mr. Bowen upheld the penalties imposed by the Judicial Committee.

Suspensions of one year, originally handed out to Matthew Meyers, Robert Cohea and James Tarlau, were reduced to indefinite suspension and disciplinary probation for the remainder of their stay at Princeton. Indefinite suspension is defined as the length of time required for the student to communicate to his parents the reasons for his suspension and have them write the Dean of Students indicating knowledge of the case and requesting readmission.

Mr. Bowen also questioned the "automatic withdrawal" feature of the disciplinary probation penalties — the condition that the students on probation would be required to withdraw from the University immediately if found guilty of a repeated violation of the same University policy. He felt that making withdrawal automatic allowed no opportunity for consideration of the case of an individual in the light of personal circumstances at the time.

STOP BUILDING

Two Upre Hall, James Sayen, chairman of the Township Open Space Commission, and Stuart Robson, Township assessor, propose a halt to all building in Princeton until sewer problems are solved — perhaps for two years until the Stony Brook regional sewer has been completed.

Mr. Sayen admits he won't get much support locally. But Mr. Robson thinks a moratorium would cause such a hue and cry from private developers at Princeton University that officials would move faster to solve sewer problems.

THREE FINED $12

For Red Light Violations. Three Princeton residents were each fined $12 Monday in Borough court by Judge Theodore T. Tams Jr., for red light violations.

They are Gertrude W. Diederich, 59, 213 Snowden Lane; Jacqueline A. Mery, 36, 73 Library Road; and Giovanni Ricci, 27, Palmer Physical Lab, Princeton University. All pleaded guilty.

Robert P. Stewart, 213 State Road, and Albert J. Cervera, 44 Hillside Avenue, were each fined $10 for failing to display a name on a commercial vehicle.

VERANDA ROOF DENIED
For Bellows By Zoners. A veranda-type roof that would have extended the overhang of Bellows, 210 Nassau Street, three and one-half feet was denied last week by the Borough Zoning Board.

The board based its denial solely on its feeling that the proposed remodeling was "a substantial intrusion beyond the predominant store front, line along Nassau Street." The board decided not to become involved in the problem of right-of-way claimed by the state for Nassau Street.

Attorney A. C. Reeves Hicks had told the board earlier that the front veranda concept was as old as Dodge City from which it was copied. The remodeling of the facade of Bellows, as envisioned by the consultant who sketched the plans, consisted of columns of brick facing, two large bowed windows on either side of an enlarged entrance and a permanent veranda awning. He wrote in a letter, which Mr. Hicks read to the board, that he felt the remodeling to be in keeping with the atmosphere of the neighborhood which he found to be one of "quiet, gracious elegance."

The proposed veranda roof would extend six feet from the front of the store and 13 feet from the curb. Eleven feet high, it would be supported by nine wooden columns, 5½ inches wide. Mr. Hicks told the board the veranda awning would not cut off the vision of pedestrians and would be an attractive addition. There were no objections

Tax Office Has Moved

Quarterly municipal taxes are due this Friday, May 1. Township taxpayers who pay bills in person, should go to the Township's new tax office in the big ORC (Opinion Research Corporation) building on Terhune Road just off North Harrison behind the Shopping Center.

The sign for the new location is inside the ORC property. The office is in the rear of the ORC building in the new section, and there are signs pointing the way.

The application of Eva Short of Skillman to convert a small house she owns at 16 Moore Street into a joint occupancy use was denied. Dr. Short, a psychiatrist at the New Jersey Neuropsychiatric Institute in Skillman, had wanted to use the first floor as an office to treat patients at night and the second floor as an apartment.

The board ruled that she failed to satisfy the requirements concerning such a conversion and that she had not demonstrated any grounds for relief. Primarily, Dr. Short was not able to provide the required three parking places nor the 200 square feet of open space required for each habitable room.

The application of Winifred E. Longstreet and her mother, Elizabeth P. Gray, to convert a large house they own at 62 William Street into a two-family dwelling was granted.

James Mackenzie was granted an extension of six months of a lot width variance he had received in May, 1969, from the board. At the time, he presented plans to build a home on the rear of a lot at 36 Pine Street he owns and renovate a vacant house in the front.

Mr. Mackenzie, formerly in business for himself as a realtor, told the board that "adverse economic conditions" had prevented him from moving ahead as fast as he had originally outlined and that he needed more time. Sewer, gas and water lines, he said, have already been installed.

QUADRANGLE HAS PLAN
For Student Housing. A tentative proposal to develop housing on its own property for as many as 126 students is being explored by the undergraduate members of Princeton University's Quadrangle Club, one of the upper-class eating facilities on Prospect Street.

Developed by Herbert A. Davis, class of 1949 at the University, and treasurer of the club's graduate board, the plan calls for a residential quadrangle of 21 six-man units, each with three bedrooms, a study recreation room and kitchenette. The expansion would also include enlarged dining facilities to accommodate the increased membership, a heated swimming pool and paved parking for cars.

Mr. Davis, who specializes in feasibility studies for the Baltimore realty firm of Chase, Fitzgerald, Davis and Boland, estimated the cost of the project would be $500,000, if the work could begin immediately.

Quadrangle president senior Paul A. McGinley said that the club's current membership appears to be in favor of the plan, and will vote formally on the project before the end of the school year. The entire graduate board would also vote on the proposal.

Mr. McGinley also indicated that support of the University administration would be essential.

Police Opening Listed

Applicants for patrolman are being sought by the West Windsor Township police department. Applications may be obtained between 9 and 5 at police headquarters on South Mill Road in Dutch Neck. Applicants for the position, which carries an $8 to $10,000 salary range, must be between 21 and 35.

In a presentation to the undergraduate membership last Thursday, Mr. Davis said the project could be financed with an 8% mortgage at a cost per resident to the new university room rate of $30 annually. He said that at least half the units could be ready for occupancy within six months of the start of building.

"We think this is a singularly new alternative to the present residential options available to undergraduates," McGinley said. "Actually, the housing would be closer to classrooms than most dormitories owned by the University, and we think it would help relieve some of the current pressures on Princeton to provide more housing."

"We don't really regard this project as an off-campus housing program," Mr. McGinley said. "Actually, the housing would be closer to classrooms than most dormitories owned by the University, and we think it would help relieve some of the current pressures on Princeton to provide more housing."

"We want this to become an integral part of the University," Mr. McGinley commented. "It would be a positive addition to the university community, although we want and plan to remain independent."

The feasibility study done by Davis estimates total revenue from student occupancy of the units at $600,000, with another $8,000 from summer rentals to any members of the university community. About $10,000 more annually would come from the club's general operating funds and rental of parking spaces. He said a 25-year mortgage at eight per cent interest would call for payments of about $43,000 annually.

Quadrangle's clubhouse was built in 1917. Original plans, drawn up before World War I called for a four-building complex, but financial pressures after the war made it impossible to complete the Quadrangle.

FASHION SHOW SET

Planned As Benefit. Tuesday at 8 a "June Wedding" dress rehearsal will be presented at the benefit fashion show of the Montgomery Township PTA. Called "The Summer Scene," the show will also feature a variety of clothes for casual wear, cocktails, dinner, playtime and sports, including men's jackets, all from Reynolds of Somerville. Assuming the cases of the wedding party will be members of the community acting as the bride, the mother, grandmother and great grandmother. A bower of greenery and blossoms is the setting, on the stage of the new high school auditorium.

"The Summer Scene" is a fund-raising benefit for the new scholarship fund, administered by the Parents and Teachers Association. According to Mrs. Robert Schwenker, co-chairman of the show with Mrs. Frank Schneek, the fund is intended to assist qualified students who wish to continue advanced studies after graduation, either at college or in a technical school. Scholarships will be awarded on the basis of need. Tickets are priced at $2 for adults and $1 for students. Early reservations are suggested by ticket chairman Mrs. John Connolly. Tickets may be reserved or purchased through Mrs. John Connolly. —Continued On Page 20

A LOOK AT 1976

How to Plan Bicentennial. How should New Jersey observe the 200th anniversary of the American Revolution during the 1970's?

What are organizations and institutions throughout the state
now doing in preparation for the Bicentennial? What can be done to promote appreciation of the men and events of the Revolutionary era and the ideas and ideals embodied in the Declaration of Independence?

The New Jersey Historical Commission will take up these questions at a public hearing
Tuesday in the State Senate Chamber in Trenton. The hearing, which will start at 9:30 a.m. has been called "to ascertain public opinion on New Jersey's role in the Bicentennial observance," according to the Commission's chairman, Professor Richard P. McCormick of Rutgers (See "Mailbox," page 22).

Scheduled to testify are some 40 representatives of historical, educational, cultural and civic groups. Their testimony will be studied by the Commission in preparing a state plan for the Bicentennial.

The Only Race We Cannot Afford To Lose
Is The Human Race...
The Arms Race Must Be Stopped!!

The Pentagon is pressuring Congress for funds for MIRV and expansion of the ABM system.
Authorization for these funds MUST BE DENIED because:

- Long-range costs for ABM and MIRV combined have been conservatively estimated at about $60 billion — money that is needed for urgent domestic problems. The effectiveness as well as the necessity for these weapons has been questioned by leading scientists and legislators.
- Development of these missile systems will jeopardize the current talks with the Soviet Union on strategic arms limitation (SALT).
- As our government plunges deeper into the "war business", it becomes more difficult to ignore pressures from those groups who have a vested interest in the manufacture and maintenance of these weapon systems.
Thus it is essential that there be an immediate shift in emphasis and resources so that these funds can instead be made available for American's URGENT HUMAN NEEDS.

MAKE YOUR VIEWS KNOWN — NOW — before the Senate votes on this mindless Pentagon request (vote expected in mid-May). Write to Sen. Clifford P. Case and Sen. Harrison Williams, Jr., United States Senate, Washington, D.C. 20510.

Members of the public interested in the Bicentennial are invited to attend.

"RESEARCH IS FUN"
Says Prof. Aleya. Students fifth grade and up, are especially invited to a demonstration lecture, "Research Is Fun" to be given Monday, May 11, at 8 p.m. in the auditorium of John Witherspoon School, by Professor Hubert N. Aleya of the Princeton University chemistry department.

The program will benefit the Princeton High School PTA Scholarship Fund.

Dr. Aleya has given his demonstration lectures in more than 50 countries. He has been seen most recently in Princeton giving his talk called "Lucky Accidents, Great Discoveries and the Prepared Mind."

APPEAL GROUP FORMED
For Annual Parks Campaign. Mrs. Peter B. Putnam, 48 Roper Road, has been selected again this year to chair the Princeton area appeal of the National Recreation and Park Association. The direct mail campaign lends support to the NRPA's nationwide effort to improve and expand park, recreation and conservation services.

In addition, the NRPA encourages summer youth programs and helps in preserving natural and human resources by aiding public and private agencies to develop programs and train personnel.

Also named to the area committee this year are Mrs. James Carey, Mrs. Michael Erdman,

Applications Here Soar

The New York Times reported this week that Princeton University, in contrast to declining applications at other Ivy League colleges, experienced an increase of 49% during the past 12 months.

The second highest increase (15%) was credited to Columbia. Yale held virtually even, whereas decreases ranging from 3 to 12% were reported at Dartmouth, Harvard and Cornell.

Princeton's upward surge was in sharp contrast to the previous 12 months, when an increase of 25% was recorded. During the admissions year just ended (admittances to the Class of 1974 were mailed earlier this month), 8,382 applications were received, 1,570 were admitted and 965 acceptances are anticipated.

Mrs. Simeon Hutner, Mrs. Leslie Laughlin, Mrs. Roland Macleod, and Donald Barr, executive director of the Princeton Recreation Department.

TO START NEW SCHOOL
Along Experimental Lines. Formation of a new experimental day school in the Princeton area will be discussed next Wednesday, May 6 at 8 p.m. at an open meeting in the Friends Meeting House, Quaker Bridge Road.

Chairman will be Sam Semino, teacher at Seton Hall. All parents and children who would like to meet and discuss the new school are invited to attend.

A co-operative of teachers and children, the school would be rooted in the principles of such writers and educators as John Holt, George Dennison, Clark Moustakas and Herbert Kohl. Students would be free to choose their own activities and, in the words of a sponsoring parent, Mrs. Sally Sullivan, "free to make their own discoveries from a rich learning environment. In this school community, all aspects of children's and teachers' beings and not just mental selves, will be engaged. Our fundamental concern is with the whole person."

The school will comprise children from two and one-half years of age to 18. So far, about 15 or 20 children are on hand, plus six full-time teachers. Sponsors have a goal of 60 children.

ADOPT ME?

"Children Who Wait." A drive to find adopting parents for Negro and inter-racial children has been launched by the New Jersey Bureau of Children's Services and the Children's Home Society of New Jersey. The drive is being co-ordinated by the Volunteer Bureau of the Delaware Valley in Trenton.

Agencies are searching for parents "who can love and accept a child who was not born to them." There are approximately eight Negro or inter-racial children for every adopting family that is available, the two agencies say.

Foster homes serve the purpose up to a point, agency specialists believe, but they point out that a child needs to belong to and be part of, a permanent family unit.

Anyone adopting a child must be at least 21 years old, and at least ten years older than the person adopted. During the present drive, all adoption fees have been waived by the agencies.

Couples who would like to consider adopting Negro or inter-racial child may call the Volunteer Bureau at 393-7194 or write to the Bureau at 602 Greenwood Avenue, Trenton.

The drive is also directed toward finding homes for children with medical problems or physical handicaps, and for older children or families of brothers and sisters.

CENSUS WORK PROCEEDS

Some House Calls Necessary. District Manager Charles F. Mann, Jr., reports good progress in this area of the follow-up phases of the 1970 Census of Population and Housing. Census takers are visiting homes from which no questionnaires were mailed back, as well as those from which questionnaires were returned incompletely filled out.

The District Manager asks householders to welcome these census takers when they call and to give them full cooperation in obtaining the required census information.

Most of the census takers are women. Each wears a red, white and blue identification badge which is her official credential. It bears her signature and certifies that she is authorized to perform the duties of a Census Enumerator, and has sworn to keep confidential all census information given her.

Planning for 1976.

To the Editor of Town Topics: New volunteers are still signing in at Red Cross Headquarters, therefore, the results of the Princeton Blood Donor Drive have not been tallied. The inspiring response of the many individuals and groups who supported the drive helped give the May 1st Proclamation real meaning and true community spirit.

I am addressing this letter to you on behalf of the Open Space Commissioners of the Princeton Township in order to express our support for the plan to celebrate the 200th anniversary of the Declaration of Independence which has been offered under the name of "Pols '76".

As has already been explained to your Commission, the proponents of this plan believe that the celebration should commemorate our 200th anniversary by bringing about a concrete manifestation of a cooperative spirit within the original 13th colonies. This would take the form of a high speed rail transportation link between the main cities of these colonies, running from Boston to Atlanta. Along with the mass transportation link the project would include improvement of the environment of the participating cities and the areas between them, in such ways as beautifying the rights of way for the railroad and adjoining highways, reducing air pollution, and improving recreational facilities.

It is because of our concern for the environment that the Open Space Commissioners of Princeton Township have studied the Pols '76 proposal and have authorized me to express their unanimous support for this project.

We urge that your Commission lend its full support to the resolution now being advanced by Assemblyman William E. Schuler to appoint a legislative commission to revitalize New Jersey's plans for the Bicentennial in the light of the new Pols proposal.

THOMAS P. COOK

(Editor's Note: A public hearing will be held next Tuesday, May 5 at 10 a.m. in the State Assembly chamber, State House, Trenton, before the New Jersey Historical Commission.)

Several Princeton residents are working on formation of a New Jersey Committee for Pols '76 and are urging attendance at the hearing.

Among the organizing members of the committee are Mr. and Mrs. Edwin C. Hutter, Mr. and Mrs. Charles K. Agle, Mr. and Mrs. J. Richardson Dilworth, Julian P. Boyd, Hans K. Sander, John P. Cleaver, William Shortt, Thomas Sutherland, James J. Sayen, Mrs. John D. Davies, Gerald Breese and Newell Brown.)

Thanks from Red Cross.

To the Editor of Town Topics: We are eager to thank the local news media and those business establishments that helped so much to publicize our drive.

We also wish to thank the group of ladies who served a sumptuous supper to the student canvassers after they had covered Princeton on foot Wednesday afternoon.

Most importantly, we wish to express our deepest gratitude to the students of Princeton High School and to the 13 Boy Scouts of Troop 88 who joined them. Thank you for the magnificent job you have done in organization, publicity, and pure unadulterated leg-work. Thank you for the inspiration you have provided to all of our adult community to sign-up, and, as you have done, "Share the Joy of Living."

Reflections on Earth Day.

To the Editor of Town Topics: While I can disagree with some of the arguments behind "Earth Day," all in all, I am very pleased with the efforts of some of the younger members of the Community in promoting the issue of the danger to our environment, in voluntary garbage collection and by the students of Princeton High School in covering over a proposed parking lot. I only wish that the latter were not so busy in their protests.

The principal of Princeton High School, the Board of Education, and the town government should profit by the example of these idealistically minded students. First, they should prohibit any student of Princeton High School from driving to school, and have the police ticket any car parked on or around the premises; secondly, they should suspend the bus service to the High School, and make all students walk to school or bring bicycles, even from Montgomery and West Windsor Townships.

After all, the Administration of the High School, it is alleged, was advised by a few of the students to walk, which is laudable. We should all exercise!

more, and besides, it would help our environment.

Thirdly, the Borough Engineer should be consulted to fill in the road designed for buses connecting Houghton Street and Franklin Avenue, and most of the present parking lots, and in their place build malls and tree-lined flower gardens. Better yet, the students should do this. It is hoped that these moves will ultimately lower our taxes and make for a healthier, contented, and more dedicated group of students.

I hope that all these actions by the students of Princeton High will be done every day, voluntarily, even if it should mean the hauling of garbage to the dump by bicycle by the students. After all, this is not impractical — millions of people in this world use the bicycle as we use the truck here.

I am not being facetious or light in my proposals, I am serious. If the students of Princeton High School can interfere with a construction project in the name of Ecology, then they should accept the sacrifices or be made to accept the sacrifices in the name of Ecology.

They completely filled the largest Township dump-truck with filth and rubbish our fellow citizens have deposited on our roads. This activity is, we hope, to be the beginning of a volunteer citizens program sponsored by the Open Space Commission, to clean up the remaining 20 miles of trash littering the streets of our township.

When this cleanup job is completed, may we ask our fellow citizens to think twice before "airmailing" trash?

WALK THROUGH SPACE

Open, That Is. The annual "Walk in the Parks" sponsored by the Princeton Township Open Space Commission will be held Sunday, May 10, from 2 to 5 p.m. Rain date: Sunday, May 17.

All Township Open Space areas are open all year. The "Walk in the Parks" is designed to acquaint residents of the area with the facilities offered in these wild woodland acres.

Featured parks will be the Wildlife Refuge on Lower Alexander Street; the Woodfield Reservation on The Great Road; Herrontown Woods on Sowden Lane; Autumn Hill on Herrontown Road and Marquard Park between Stockton and Mercer Streets.

At the entrance to each park will be members of the citizens group advising the Commission on that particular park. They will have information on the park, and a free map of all Open Space recreation areas.

"Guide to Open Space in Princeton" is available for inspection in the Princeton Public Library at the reference desk. It contains photographs and descriptions of all the areas. Free maps of the parks are also available at the library.

The Open Space Commission reminds park visitors that there is neither running water nor toilet facilities in any park.

TWO ARE APPOINTED

To Fill Watershed Vacancies. At its Annual Meeting last Monday, the trustees of the Stony Brook-Millstone Watersheds Association announced the appointments of Ian R. Walker as executive director and Peter A. Gail as program director to fill vacancies created by the resignations during this past year of Paul VanWegen and Richard S. Ghorrell.

Mr. Walker will begin his new assignment on May 18. Mr. Gail will be joining the staff early this summer.

Mr. Walker's career has been as a geologist working for county, state, and federal agencies within New Jersey. Since 1966 he has been with the Soil Conservation Service, most recently as staff specialist with technical responsibilities in the overall geologic logical phase of the Service's activities in New Jersey including conservation operations, watershed protection and flood prevention.

Mr. Walker received a B.A. degree in geology from Ohio Wesleyan University in 1959 and an M.A. in geology from the University of South Dakota in 1961. He resides with his wife and three children at 19 Rocky Brook Road, Cranbury. He is a member of the East Windsor Township Planning Board and Chairman of the East Windsor Township Board of Health.

Mr. Gail was graduated with a B.S. degree in Biological Science at California State Polytechnic College, Pomona, California in 1962 and received an M.A. degree in Botany from Claremont Graduate School in 1964. He expects to receive a Ph.D. in Botany from Rutgers this summer.

urban living with city children from Trenton.

The "Summer for Kids" program hopes to find 100 homes where kids aged 7 to 12 would be welcome for a week. The new project is modeled on the New York Fresh Air Fund which has been doing the same type of work for 80 years.

The Jaycee chapters of Hightstown, Princeton, East Windsor, Hamilton Township and Lawrence Township have initiated the project to benefit Trenton children who might otherwise be forgotten.

Each family can choose the sex and age of the child who will come to visit, and the Jaycees will take care of the child's transportation to and from the city. A picnic for the host families and children is also planned by the Jaycees.

Families interested in offering a vacation to a Trenton youngster should contact Jerry Trips, at 639-2519.

NEW DIRECTOR NAMED

At University League Nursery, Mrs. Carolyn Hills has been named director of the University League Nursery School, to succeed Mrs. Marian Maxwell. Mrs. Maxwell is retiring after seven years as director and 14 years of teaching at the school.

Mrs. Hills, a native of Brooklyn, attended public schools and graduated from Fisk University majoring in psychology. Her teaching experience includes former positions in Ithaca, New York and Urbana, Illinois, as well as the Princeton "Y" Toddler School. She has taught at the League Nursery for the past four years.

The new director feels that the cooperative League Nursery offers a unique experience that is constructive for parents as well as children. By participating in the work of running the school, parents can share in their children's new learning experiences and individual development.

The school is open to children of all parents connected with Princeton University. A scholarship program is available to encourage a broader range of participants.

A resident of Lawrence Township, Mrs. Hills is married and has three children. She is on the board of directors of the Child Guidance Center of Mercer County and is a past president of the League of Women Voters of Lawrence Township. Mrs. Maxwell plans to move to Austin, Texas, where her husband has accepted a new appointment as professor of geology at the University of Texas.

In Junior Contest, The Junior Photographic Competition being sponsored by the Princeton Historical Society and the Arts Council of Princeton will close Friday, May 15.

All entries may be left at Bainbridge House, 158 Nassau Street, on the morning of Saturday May 9, or the afternoon of Wednesday, May 13. Judging will follow shortly after that date, and the winners will be notified.

Music from Marlboro Delights, As Always

Ten McCosh Hall is just about the finest auditorium for chamber music concerts and its acoustic splendors are all the more enhanced when "Music from Marlboro" musicians perform there.

Last Wednesday night, the 15th program in the Princeton University Department of Music chamber series took place before one of the larger audiences of the season. The performers were the internationally renowned Jaime and Ruth Laredo, (on violin and piano respectively), Robert Sylvester, violoncello, and Raphael Hüller, viola. The program consisted of the "Dumky" Trio by Antonin Dvorak, the Sonata for Violin and Piano by Kirchner and the Piano Quartet in G minor, Op. 23 by Johannes Brahms.

The Kirchner work, dating from 1952 when the composer was 33, displays a master craftsman whose composition abounds in a variety of moods and rhythmic interests, especially in the dazzling piano part which Ruth Laredo executed brilliantly, while at the same time displaying a romantic quality that was in many ways unique for its time. In 1952 most American composers were still toying with "neoclassicism" before they turned toward "eclecticism" in the late 50s and early 60s.

MUSIC In Princeton

Despite the elegance of Mr. Kirchner's creation, despite the drive, expressive writing for both the violin and piano and general cohesive shape of the music, the piece seems superficial, as if one had the talent and the intelligence to follow all the rules of good composition procedure, yet lacked that intrinsic gift to say something genuinely rewarding and beautiful, in the edict sense of the term. Perhaps repeated listenings will prove this listener wrong. As for the performance, what can one say? Superlatives are full of clichés and words take up too much space for the interested reader. Both Jaime and Ruth Laredo delivered a breathtaking account of the music, one that certainly would have satisfied its composer.

Remarkable. Understanding. The two other works on the program, the Dvorak "Dumky" Trio and the Brahms G minor Piano Quartet, were played with the same remarkable understanding, feeling and dedication as the Kirchner composition.

Dvorak's masterpiece is almost in a class by itself. It is unquestionably one of the most inspired and beautifully wrought chamber works of the second half of the 19th century. It ranks with Brahms' efforts in the same medium structurally, and occasionally outweighs the master from Hamburg in sheer melodic inspiration. Dvorak is master of texture and his involvement with the Czech or Bohemian folksong spirit permeates his music with a rich and fresh flavor that is supported by a strong sense of form and logic. It is interesting here in commenting about Dvorak's style, that he was friends to both Tchaikovsky and Brahms, and took the best from each.

Upon hearing this beautiful trio, one reflects on a time no longer a part of our civilization, a distant world that once existed. Only through performances as those provided by the Laredos and Mr. Sylvester can one relive the feelings of that late 19th century middle European world that has vanished forever.

And what fantastic interpretations these three musicians gave us! The cello part was given nobility of tone that one has come to cherish from all Marlboro performers. How Mr. Sylvester has grown as an artist since his last visit to Princeton! Jaime Laredo's violin artistry was its usual solid self throughout the evening, but it was Ruth Laredo's pianism that made the evening the perfect musical experience that it was.

For the Brahms Quartet, Raphael Hüller joined the Laredos and Mr. Sylvester in a reading of this grand work that must be regarded as the "last word" in fidelity to the spirit of the music.

Wednesday night's concert was the final one of this current season's major chamber music offerings. It was also the best, and was rewarded by a tumultuous ovation from an enthusiastic McCosh Hall audience.

MAY 7 THE DAY

For Free Pap Test. A cancer detection and prevention campaign among women of the Princeton Hospital service area and Mercer County in particular can achieve a major victory on Thursday, May 7, when free Pap Tests are offered.

The medical supplies, doctors, nurses and clerical aides are already prepared and uterine cancer can be prevented if the women of the area participate, states Mrs. Robert J. Alpert, lay chairman for the program jointly sponsored by the Mercer County Unit of American Cancer Society and the Mercer County Component Medical Society. Dr. James R. Hastings of Princeton Hospital and Dr. Raymond McCormack of Trenton are the medical chairman.

The free, quick and painless Pap Test will be given May 7 at Princeton Hospital, from 9 a.m. to 8 p.m.; Lawrence Township High School from 4 to 9 p.m.; Hightstown Community Center on Rutgers Ave. from 9 a.m. to 8 p.m. No appointment is required.

The Pap Test takes its name from Dr. George N. Papanicolaou, the late Greek-born scientist who developed the technique for examining a tiny smear of cells taken from the uterus. For the May 7 tests the small swabs and glass slides along with other supplies are being provided by Cancer Society funds.

Individuals and women's organizations have been preparing and publicizing the Pap Test Day for several weeks.

Among the area chairmen and coordinators are: Hightstown, Mrs. Robert Rice, a nurse at Princeton Hospital, president of the area nurses' association; Mrs. Andrea Aughenbaugh of Hightstown Community Center; Dr. Julius Richter of Princeton Hospital, the medical chairman.

Lawrence Township, Mrs. Adrian F. Heffer of Lawrenceville, a nurse at Princeton University's McCosh Infirmary; Robert Teglis, the Township health officer; Dr. J. R. Fiorelli of Helene Fuld Hospital, medical chairman.

Princeton, Mrs. Charles Baer

of Princeton, a volunteer at Princeton Hospital; Mrs. Eleanor G. Claus, a nurse and director of Department of Community Health Services at Princeton Hospital; Dr. William E. Polard of Princeton Hospital, medical coordinator.

Mrs. George Stevens of Kingston has served as chairman of organizing volunteers, who will help the day of the testing. In organizing the medical aspects of the program, Dr. Hastings has been aided by two of his associates, Dr. J. Anthony Dede and Dr. Michael M. Heeg.

The showing of two informational and instructional films are being used in advance of the Pap Test Day. They are "Breast Self Examination" and "Time and Two Warnings." The films will be shown on April 30 at 10 a.m. at the Prince Theatre on U.S. Route 1 in Lawrence Township, at the Highs Theatre in Hightstown and at the RKO Brunswick near the Brunswick Circle in Trenton. The shows are free and physicians will be present to answer questions.

ertoire, such as American folk songs, spirituals and glees.

This performance will also feature selections of Mozart and Dvorak, and the "Tarantella" by Randall Thompson. The Dvorak songs will be sung as they were written, in the Czech language.

The premiere performance of "A Requiem for the Ivy League," is also a part of Friday's program. The musical satire commemorates the sunset of certain notable universities and the "new dawn" of coeducation. A medley of Princeton songs, arranged by conductor Walter Nolner, will also be heard.

The Freshman Glee Club, conducted by William Trege, will perform several selections from its own repertoire for the concert. Mr. Trege is director of vocal music at Princeton High School.

Tickets are $2 (students $1) and may be purchased at the door, or at the University Store.

STRAIGHT-ARROWS

WHO ARE THESE STRAIGHT-ARROWS, ANYWAY? They're all Consumer Bureau Registered business people — recommended to Consumer Bureau by their own satisfied customers;

AND WHY DO WE THINK THEY'RE SO STRAIGHT? Since 1967, when Consumer Bureau started advertising for consumer complaints, they've all handled — to the satisfaction of Consumer Bureau's various committees of unpaid consumer volunteers — whatever consumer complaints affecting them may have been received by the Bureau;

AND WHY CALL THEM ARROWS? Well, by joining Consumer Bureau as dues-paying, non-voting Business Members, or by having voluntarily taken part in one or more Consumer Bureau paid advertising programs, they're giving Consumer Bureau the zing to aim straight at the heart of many consumer problems which cost money to deal with;

THEN WHAT ABOUT Consumer Bureau Registered business people who have not yet become dues-paying Business Members of Consumer Bureau? They're all listed at no charge, as usual, on our complete unpublished Register of recommended business people and they've been given — also free of charge — Consumer Bureau Registration Numbers by which they can identify themselves on request as Consumer Bureau Registered business people. We hope they'll all be dues-paying Consumer Bureau Business Members soon — so we can list them in our odds and make it easier for consumers to know who they are!

AND WHY THIS STRAIGHT-ARROW SWEEPSTAKES? To dramatize to Princeton area consumers who their best friends are among the business people who serve the Princeton area!

He has worked for ITT since 1963 when the firm for which he was working, Bell and Gossett, became part of the ITT system. Before coming to the New York office, he had been vice president and director of engineering at the company's Environmental Products Division in Philadelphia.

In his new position, Mr. Hoaglund will have worldwide technical responsibility for the company's production of heating and air conditioning equipment, heat transfer pumps, fluid-handling products and automatic controls. He and his wife have two daughters in college and a son who instructs at Girard College, Philadelphia.

Craig Donaldson, 41 Leavitt Lane, has been named to the Honor's List at Furleigh Dickinson University for achieving a semester average of more than 85%.

Miss Patricia A. Johnson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joel B. Johnson, 85 Overbrook Drive, took part in a contemporary mime production by eight students recently at Colby Junior College in New London, New Hampshire.

The production was part of "Comedy Today," an evening of modern music, dance and drama that was staged at the college's Sawyer Theatre.

This was the first major production of mime theatre by students in the dramatics and dance programs. The routines were performed under guest directors Karen and Bud Boyer.

Miss Johnson is a freshman, enrolled in the college's liberal arts program.

Sculpture by Mrs. Dorothy Greenbaum, 104 Mercer Street, will be a part of an exhibition of works which spans 40 years at the Main Galleries of the New Jersey State Museum. Opening on Saturday, the exhibit will run until July 5.

Originally a painter, Mrs. Greenbaum began her sculpture career in 1927. She works with bronze, hammered lead and stone using traditional techniques for her personifications of birds and smaller-than-life animals and for her astute revelations of human personalities. Since 1963, she has been making intaglio-relief prints.

Dorothy Greenbaum, 104 Mercer Street, has been elected to associate membership as a sculptor in the National Academy of Design, New York.

 A member of the Princeton Jaycees, Mr. Micheletti has in the past served as director, treasurer and chairman of the area junior tennis tournament. He is a research scientist at RCA Laboratories, and has lived in New Jersey for eight years. He received his PhD. from Princeton University in 1968.

TRACKMEN VS. TRENTON
 Notre Dame Here Tuesday
 Loser in its first three dual meets, Princeton High School's track team will meet Trenton High Thursday at 3:45 on the "Tornadoes" track.
 Next the Little Tigers will play host on Tuesday to Notre Dame, also starting at 3:45. The rained out meet with St. Anthony's has been rescheduled for Friday, May 8.

After dropping its first two meets by lopsided scores, PHIS was in contention in its meet with New Brunswick last week right to the end. "We were hopeful that we might pull it out," said coach Larry Ivan, who watched the home team Zebras eke out a 67-59 win.
 The Little Tigers swept the high jump, the first time this season they have garnered a sweep. Paul Riddell, who also won the high hurdles in 15.5, was fired. Barry Boone second and Mark Burditt third. New Brunswick outlived this however, by sweeping the discuss and two-mile.

In a second surprise, PHIS which had failed to score a point previously in the pole vault, won this event. Sophomore Steve Woodside vaulted 9'6, the first Little Tiger to clear eight feet. Phil Kronechek took third. Joe Bolster outlived unbested in the mile, and Chris Mislow won the shot for the second time in a row.

Don Owens was second in the 100 and third in the 200. Lee Aldrich, moved into the broad jump by Ivan, made a leap of 17-10 1/2 by first time up to take second in that event and a third in the low hurdles. Riddell was second in the low's.
 Senior Scott Dougall had the lead in the 440 but through lack of experience, made a bad move on a turn and missed taking the event by a few yards.

Lawrence Parker, who has failed to match his performance last year as a sophomore, captured second place in the javelin. "He had a bad day," said Ivan, who added Parker may be concentrating too much on his form. "We haven't been able to practice that much either," said Ivan. "By this time last year, he had thrown a lot more."

Ivan also singled out sophomore Gary Asano for his progress in the high hurdles. "For his size, he's doing a very capable job for us. I can see him getting better, he's improving

MIDDLE DISTANCE RUNNERS: Steve Foltyn (right) was involved in a disputed finish in the 880 in last week's meet with New Brunswick, one judge having him second and two others, third. Scott Dougall just missed capturing the 140 by a few yards, Little Tigers lost a close one, 67-59, just like Paul Mazzarella did. Mazzarella was in outstanding hurdler for PHIS the previous three years before graduating in June.

PDS NINE TAKES TWO
 Ties for First. Pending the outcome of Wednesday's scheduled contest against the Hun School, the Princeton Day baseball team found itself tied for four days at least, after a pair of victories over Penn Jersey rivals Pennington and Perkiomen last week.

On Friday, the Blue and White will get a breather from league competition when it goes against the Admiral Farragut at 3:30 at home. Next Wednesday, George School will provide the opposition in another 3:30 home contest.

The two league triumphs put PDS at the top of the League's Day Division with a 3-1 mark, along with Germantown Friends, which dealt the Panthers their only loss. Germantown lost its first to Perkiomen last week. Meeting previously unbeaten, Perkiomen last Saturday, the Panthers got a break at the beginning when Perkiomen's star 17-year-old pitcher, responsible for all its wins to date, chose that day to suddenly get married.

As things started out it appeared that he wouldn't be missed. Perkiomen scored three

PHS TO FACE RIVALS

In Lacrosse, The Princeton high school lacrosse team will oppose two area rivals next week.

Friday, coach Marvin Trout said, the slickmen will travel to Princeton Day School for a 3:30 contest, and on Wednesday they will oppose Hun School, also at 3:30. In between, on Monday, PHS will play Montclair here in a game that was originally scheduled April 29.

Last week, the Little Tigers picked up their second win of the season, topping visiting Newton, 4-2. Midfielder Phil Nolner scored for PHS in the first period and the Blue and White never trailed thereafter.
The next three were scored by attackmen, evidence that the PHS offense, which suffered the biggest loss through graduation, is coming around. Scoring were Jeff Bolentine, Hugh Fitzpatrick on an assist by Mark Rosso and Tim Taggart.

PHS was forced to go without three of its starters. Phil Matthews was sidelined again by back problems — and coach Marvin Troutman reported that he may be forced to miss the remainder of the season. Craig Singer was out with the flu and Maury Peabody was hurt in a traffic accident.

The win was Princeton High's second in six starts; Newton dropped to 0-5.

HUN FACES PHS NINE

On Friday, The Hun School
baseball team, which has been struggling in the early going,
and Princeton High School, the victim of a string of rainouts, will tangle at the PHS field Friday at 3:30.

Hun, presently 1-3 in Penn-Jersey League play, will also entertain Academy of New Church Tuesday afternoon at 3:15 in a league contest. This Wednesday afternoon at 3:30,
Hun was scheduled to meet rival Princeton Day School on the latter's diamond.

Last week, Hun lost — in the last inning — to Germantown Friends, 2-1. Although the sun had made one of its rare appearances Wednesday, Hun's scheduled game with Friends Central that day was postponed to May 11 because rains the previous day had left the Hun field too wet.

Against the home team Quakers, Hun's Mike Maguire, pitching well, managed to avenge a 1-0 loss until the final inning. Hun had scored the game's only run in the fourth when Mike Guadaguo singled home Rick Ziegler.

However, in the final frame, Germantown bunched two of its six hits for one run and then brought home the winning run on a squeeze bunt.

"We're not hitting the ball, not at all," said Hun coach Dave Leete. In addition to Guadagno's single, Hun was limited to a single by Al Chalfoux and a double by Pete Jones. Maguire picked up the loss, his second against one win, while Germantown's Roger Burnham (2-0) got the win.

FIRST ROUND COMPLETED

Thirty-two members of Spring-

from West Windsor and Plains-boro are eligible to try out for the four teams in the league.
Every boy not now assigned to a ble for selection by a manager.

available from William P. Money, league president, or can be filled out at Hawk field on tryout day.

STUDENTS NEEDED
To Teach Tennis. The Community Tennis Program is now accepting applications from students in junior high through college, who wish to help teach tennis this summer.
The "Leader Corps" of the tennis program has long been an opportunity to earn summer money and learn skills. For students who may be too young to hold regular jobs.

To qualify, applicants must donate at least 50 hours as apprentices before they can be considered for paying positions.
Although training is on a sliding scale which increases according to a student's grade in school.

Many graduates of the program now hold high-paying positions as camp counselors or club pros. A few will return to the Community Tennis Program
this summer, as full-time staff.

These include Karen Fitzpatrick
now at Duke University.
Teddy Fritsch (from Princeton University) Carol Westoff (Connecticut College) Ken Kithen (Swarthmore College) and Anne Bretznal, who will graduate from Ithaca College where she majored in physical education as a result of her start in the program here.

Working full-time for the month of June will be Debbie Enderaby of Trinity College, and Anne Kimslove from the University of Pennsylvania.

In addition to the Leader Corps, there will be one more opening for a full-time job for a college varsity level boy, and one for a high school varsity boy for the summer. Anyone interested in applying for the Leader Corps Training program, or for these two openings, should contact Mrs. Lewis S. Kraft, program director, at 924-4737.

The Leader Corps Program for younger students emphasizes further personal work on one's own game, as well as an opportunity for exchange matches and tournament play for those who still desire to compete.
This has become a popular
"recruiter" in training program, and last year 60 junior high and high school students participated.

Meanwhile, the Spring program already underway has a list of 50 instructors to handle 1,000 students per week. Of these, 36 are junior high and high school level. They include:
Leslie and Bob Aldridge, Jill Berkelhammer, Carrie Baister,
Dick Broad, Mardi Constable,
Racey Constable, and Sue
Davis, Erica Dupman, and Sue Durbin, Margy Erdman, Jane
Gallagher, Michel and Nickie Gionchevich, Charley Goben, Randy Gulick, Penny Hines,
Pattie Kidd, Carol Liffand, Chris Lille, Bill Jones, Richard Magee, Harriette McLoughlin, Bob

ers, Beth Rumlavor, Caitlin Schuele, Chris Smith, Joanne and Hank Stratton, Danny Thomas, Randy Thomas Sieve
Tobolsky, and Ann Whitall.

DOG SHOW SUNDAY
At Washington Crossing, more than 3,600 dogs will compete
Sunday in the Trenton Kennel Club's All-Breed Dog Show and Obedience Trials at Washington
Crossing State Park. The dawn of dusk judging and show will culminate in a "Best of Show" award at 7 p.m.

Dr. Armour C. Wood, president of the sponsoring organization for the past ten years, has announced that 122 breeds will be represented in all. There will be more German Shepherds
(195) and fewer Komondors
(13) than any other breed.
Ample parking available free
this year at the park, which is located on Bear Tavern Road, Route 579, five miles north of Trenton.

BOWLING NOTES
2D Half Near End. Next week
—bunker night—will mark the end of play in the second half of the Nassau and A Leagues.
In the Nassau League, Tiger
Garage and Grover are the only teams left in the running. Gro-needs to win all three games.

Sports In Princeton

FIRST WIN ELUSIVE
For PHS Nine, Barring more rainouts, the Princeton High School baseball team by Friday will have played five games in five days. That concentrated series is going to make or break the Little Tigers as far as participating in any post season tournament.

Already, the Blue and White has lost the first two, being blanked, 2-0, here by Ewing Tuesday and losing 8-1 at Lawrenceville School the day before. All too soon, time has run out for coach Harry Zoll's squad. There is no cushion left.

Thursday, PHS will play Catharine Prep Friday will play host to Hun School in a 3-45 contest, and on Wednesday it will travel to St. Anthony's. And this Wednesday afternoon, PHS was scheduled to play Hamilton here in a makeup game at 3-45.

These games are all must wins for PHS which is still looking for that first victory. It's record is 0-3-1.

Second Win For Ewing. Ewing defeated PHS for the second time this season as Dave Didak scattered seven hits. It is counterpoint, Joe McGillicuddy pitched even better. He limited Ewing (2-12) to three hits, and two of those were inappreciative of how aggressive fielding could have put away.

But Ewing had the good sense to pinch two of his hits in the second inning. Wayne Krenchinski singled, advanced to second when Leon Clay walked and came home on a single by Neil Horner. It scored its other run in the fifth when a single, walk and error jammed the bases with two down. DeMeglio then walked Krenchinski on four straight pitches.

PHS squandered its best scoring opportunity in the third. It went away. DeMeglio and Breezy Bocanuso singled back to back. However, Breezy got picked off by the Ewing catcher. That breaks a rally right away," said Zoll from the bench. Don Crosby failed to end the threat.

PHS was forced to go without outfielder Jeff Grover, who injured his ankle in a slide in the game with Lawrenceville. He'll miss the next few games. His spot was filled by sophomore Ray Richards. In another game, the Little Tigers' Don Crosby started at short in place of Ray Pettus.

"We Had A Bad Day." Against Lawrenceville, PHS rated zero on any performance meter. Zoll summed it up by saying, "We bury, won't win in two days; this had a bad day. It was one of the worst we had in a long time."

Two hits, singles by Pettus and John Holmes, was all PHS could get off Rusty Nye, who won his first decision. Even worse were the six errors PHS Brunswick has been substituted committed in the field.

Princeton got its lone run in the first when Pettus singled between walks to Bocanuso and Jeff Bannan. Bocanuso came home on Grover's sacrifice fly.

The home team scored two in the first off PHS starter Jeff Haring, one in the second and added five more in the fourth and fifth to put the game out of reach.

FRANKLIN ROUTS PHS

In Track, 95% to 30%. Previously, Franklin High School found Princeton High to be a row without a victory.

Coach Larry Ivan knew Franklin was going to be tough but probably neither he nor any of his staff knew how ungracious the visitors would prove to be. They limited PHS to one run in 14 events. That was captured in the javelin, by Lawrence Parker who threw the spear 100-9 for his best so far this season. Bill Beachnell, co-captain of the team, took third.

The most exciting duel occurred in the mile where Joe Bolster, undefeated in his first three starts, lost by two steps to Franklin freshman Harry Kronick. Bolster knocked almost 12 seconds off his previous best in the mile, running a 4:36.2 mile. But the way, was not to be denied. He was timed in 4:35.7.

Whatever chance PHS may have had went down the drain early when Paul Riddell, its leading point-maker, tripped on the first high hurdle and crashed hard to the cinder track. The winning time in the event was 16.5 which proved that Riddell was scratched from the race to say that "Riddell could have waited in after that." As a result, Riddell, the extent of his injury not yet determined, was scratched from the high jump.

Capturing second place finishes for the Little Tigers were Chris Mielow in the shot, Steve Woodside in the pole vault (9-6); Scott Douglass in the 440; Steve Follins in the 880; Darryl Boone in the high jump and Tom Greene in the discus.

Phil White finished third in the 100, as did Gary Asano in the low hurdles, Pete Ambrux in the shot and Rich Jackson in the change in the lineup by Zoll, high jump.

PHS NINETEEN WIN TWO

By 4-1 Margins. The Princeton High School tennis team, which hadn't played a match since its quarter April 7 against Peens summed it up by saying, "We bury, won't win in two days; this had a bad day. It was one of the worst we had in a long time."

Next coach Bill Humes' team will play East Brunswick here Thursday and Christian Brothers won his first decision. Even worse were the six errors PHS Brunswick has been substituted for the Cathedral match that has also been cancelled.

Against Peddie, all three Little Tiger singles players won to sew up the match No. 1 player Robb Schumacher had the toughest time before winning in three sets, 6-2, 3-6, 6-3. Danny Thompson and Nicole Glouchewitch each lost only one game in posting easy victories.

In doubles play, Bill Schmidt and Laurie Bloom won, 6-3, 6-1, but the fresh-mid duo of Richard Board and Nick Glouchewitch lost, 6-1, 6-2.

Against Hun, Schumacher was the lone loser. Schumacher reported that Schumacher lost "a very good match" to Chris Lalle, a graduate of the Princeton Community Tennis Program and a Princeton resident. Richard Board and Nick Glouchewitch defeated another Princeton resident, Richard Board, 6-2, 6-4. Glouchewitch won his match, 6-0, 6-4.

This time the freshmen pair won, 6-2, 9-7. Bill Schmidt and Bloom won, 6-0, 6-4.

PHS STOPPED, 4-1

In Lacrosse By Peddie. In a match that was fairly even on most counts, Princeton High School was guilty of the most defensive lapses and it cost the Little Tigers a victory here Tuesday in lacrosse.

Peddie won at Community Park field, 4-1. Attackman Hugh Fitzpatrick scored the lone goal for the visitors, who saw their record dip to 2-5. Those who stood out for the losers were middie Mike Turillison, Joe McGinnis, attackmen Joe McGinnis, attackmen Morris and Maury Peabody.

SAVE YOUR APPETITE

For the "Cool Fete." From the gastronomic standpoint, the June 13 Princeton Hospital Fete will be without parallel in the event's history, or so the organizers feel. Old favorites are planned to be supplemented by new items of international cuisine, and sales will be made on either an eat-it-here, or take-it-home frozen basis.

Aside from the ubiquitous hamburger, hot dog, ice cream dishes and soft drinks — staples at any fete — this year's "Cool Fete" will have pizza (slices or whole, hot or freezer-ready), a barbecue, fresh-picked berries to eat or to go, and unusual delicacies in baked goods.

Gourmet Casseroles will be sold frozen, having been made by experts from the International and Gourmet groups of the NCA, and many other individuals.

Once again this year, the Cranbury Country Store will sell plenty of candy, pickles and jellies, and lemon sticks. Also returning is The Strawberry Patch, featuring fresh-picked berries to take home. Mrs. Tessie Costa will make her famous Baklava, a Greek pastry resembling strudel.

"Food Finder Maps" will be posted about the Fete and marked by orange pennants, this year, for those who need to locate specific items. Boys from the middle "K" club at Princeton Kiwanis will provide the muscle power for the food concessions.

Anyone who can make a special culinary contribution, either a casserole or baked goods, is advised to contact the food chairman, Mrs. Francis H. Dyckman, Jr., at 924-5013, or Mrs. Edward Thomas at 924-9402.

Here's the famous Covoly Boot — the some authentic boot worn by the fabled horse soldiers of Civil War days. Designed when boots were meant to take years of rugged wear, these are made of natural cowhide by the very same company that made them 100 years ago. Waterproof and re-inforced with kid seams. The high-well toe, celtis lining, and some old pull-on tabs still conform to original century-old standards. The color: hand stained brown! $42.50 the pair.

P.A.R. SALES RISE

25% Over 1968. Increased sales for the ninth successive year were listed by Princeton Applied Research Corporation this week, in the 1969 annual report of that nine-year-old instrument manufacturer.

Net sales of $5.2 million, an 25% above 1968, helped the firm toward an after-tax income rise of 10%. Per-share earnings reported were $0.55.

Sales on industrial accounts maintained a constant rate. However, Federal cutbacks in research funding were felt as a slowing rate of increase in orders from university and government markets, during the second half of 1969. Exports continued to grow at the rates of recent years, according to the company's chairman, E. W. Lehmann, and president, O.C. Chaykovsky.

Several new products were announced by PAR during 1969, including the Evoked Response Systems, the Pulse Quantizer and Rate Meter, a new Low-noise Preamplifier which supersedes the former model, and a wideband Preamplifier.

Among improved systems developed last year is the "Instrument/Computer Interface System," which permits remote computer-control of experiments via the telephone network.

President Lehmann has announced the establishment of five product groups, each of which will coordinate all phases of its own work, from research through sales. Factory-trained Field Service Representatives have been stationed at the company's offices in Los Angeles, Cambridge and Washington, to speed service by local repairs and modifications.

PROMOTIONS ANNOUNCED

By Gallup Organizations, Paul Perry, president of The Gallup Organization, Inc., the marketing research firm, announced that Arthur Keiser, Jr., and Irving Crespi have been promoted to the position of executive vice president. Mr. Keiser has been with the company since 1938. Mr. Crespi joined the company in 1956.

Andrew Kohut, Leonard Wood, and Dean Matlin have been promoted to vice president. Mr. Gale Gallup has joined the company as a vice president.

For Telemetry Division, Murray Medina, 27 Leavitt Lane, has been named general manager of the Telemetry Division of General Devices, Inc. In his new position, he will have full responsibility for the design, manufacture and sale of all telemetry products under group vice president David Reid.

Mr. Medina joined General Devices in 1957 as company general counsel. He has since served as general sales manager, personnel manager, manager of administration, and since 1962 as assistant secretary of both General Devices and its subsidiary, General Thermoelectric Corporation.

He received his BA from the University of Wisconsin, his Doctorate in law from Cornell, and has been admitted to practice before the New York State Bar. In the past he has been counsel for the United States Atomic Energy Commission. Prior to his association with General Devices he was assistant to the president of Gulton Industries of Metuchen, and vice president of Horizons, Inc. of Princeton.

Why Pray For Peace But Pay For War?

Each month several thousand Americans deduct 10% Federal tax before paying their telephone bills. They do this to resist a tax that was directly intended to pay for the war in Vietnam. "It is clear that the Vietnam and only the Vietnam operation makes this (tax) bill necessary."

—Representative Wilbur Mills, Congressional Record, Feb. 23, 1966

What is a good citizen to do if his government violates the law while demanding his financial support for the illegal activity? This question should be faced by all taxpayers who believe that the U.S. Government is violating several treaties to which it is a party, for, according to Article VI of the Constitution, all treaties "made under the authority of the United States shall be the supreme law of the land."

fact that a person acted pursuant to order of his government . . . does not relieve him of responsibility under international law provided a moral choice was in fact possible to him." Apparently, the "lawabiding citizen" is faced with the problem of which laws to abide by — on the one hand the supreme laws of the land and international law, or on the other hand the Internal Revenue Service code.

The Hague Conventions IV and IX of 1907 and the Geneva Conventions of 1949 prohibit mass forcible transfer of persons, the destruction of civilian property, the bombing of towns or buildings which are undefended, the employment of arms which cause unnecessary suffering, willful killing of civilians, etc. — all activities which everyone knows the U.S. to be engaged in. (For documentation and texts of treaties, see In the Name of America, published by Clergy and Laymen Concerned, 475 Riverside Drive, N.Y. 10027) Yet we are being told to pay for these illegal activities. What are we to do?

The American prosecutor at the Nuremberg trials said in another context: "The

Perhaps a solution is suggested by a Vietnam veteran speaking of the well-known atrocities: "Now I ask, if you and the people of the U.S. did not want us to do that, why do you provide us with the weapons of mass destruction? It follows that you want us to kill, slaughter, brutalize and mutilate people. The citizens of the U.S. are paying about two billion dollars a month for that . . ."

Tax resistors say they cannot abide by the law that tells them to make such payments. Some take this position on moral and ethical grounds alone, but others do so in order to abide by the Constitution. Almost all of them are working for the kind of change that will allow them both to pay taxes and remain good citizens.

The Summer Camp Fund for underprivileged children will again benefit from the offering. The fund is a special project of Church Women United benefiting nearly 200 children during the past two years. secretary of the women's department in the parish education division of the denomination's Board of Christian Education. Prayers for the success of spring plantings will be offered and a tree will be planted on the Chapel grounds. The Rev. A. Orley Swartzentruber is vicar.

Rogation Sunday has long been observed in the denomination as a seed-time festival, and in common with certain other church festivals, represents a Christianization of an ancient pagan spring rite.

At the 11 a.m. service in the

"Causes Celebres"

"MISSION IMPERATIVE"

To Set Goals for 1979. "What in the name of God is all this 'Mission Imperative' business?" a member of the First Presbyterian Church demanded of Miss Louise L. Goss, staff member of the church publication, "First."

"Mission Imperative," she replied, "is your church's attempt to discover what in the name of God, we ought to be doing during the 1970's."

Study groups on Christian concerns reported this month on their winter-long research to the Rev. Dr. Donald M. Meisel at a between-services Sunday meeting.

The study groups included "Taxation of Church Property," a group chaired by Elmer E. Chase; "Poverty," convoked by Elwyn W. Hunsinger, led by Wayne A. Witte, and "Public Dissent," with Peter Vieblig as chair.

Groups already operating in the church have held their individual study groups, reviewing purposes and considering directions for the 1970's, initially for the first five years of the '70's.

The full congregation joined this Tuesday evening in a series of neighborhood meetings scheduled to be held throughout the Princeton community.

Discussion leaders presented proposals, seeking reactions and additions from the congregation. "Concerned Christians, troubled and frustrated by the life of today, ask themselves what and where the church should be. As a target, they see the church in the April issue of 'First.' Recognizing that many Christians of the church are not yet in the community of the church, the one true Source of life and hope."

Agenda. Matters up for consideration range from problems of the role of First Church in the community and beyond.

There is an optimum size for our congregation beyond which we should think of satellite or independent units. The question posed by the nominations and session organization, "Until this question is answered, we cannot say what personnel requirements will be."

"How much emphasis should be placed on youth and on pastoral calling?" the same group asks. Volunteer aides to the minister. The group is suggested as higher financial investment in fringe benefits which may stabilize the staff, and in equipment which may reduce custodial and office personnel needs.

The role of the church's governing group, the session, needs to be made clearer to the congregation, the group suggests and proposes more contact between them.

Membership. According to the Rev. Mac Wells, the church membership has increased only 200, to 1,688, in the past ten years at a time when the Princeton community has mushroomed.

Yet First Church records a turnover of approximately 500 families, reflecting the short-term residence of many Princeton families. The membership study group seeks ways to blend new members quickly into church activities.

And the church school, considered by the Cooperative Family sub-committee, reports 41 children from 197 families in overcrowded quarters. "Either more space or rescheduling is a must."

adult applicants for membership in the church, and suggests a balance of fellowship, worship and formal classes for the senior highs.

Adults. Encounter groups "give unique practice in dialogue," the adult education sub-committee reports. "However, 'Is there a basic need of adult Christians in their study?' is a question it submits to the congregation."

The need to uncover unmet "publics" is cited by the hospitality and student relations group, meaning student nurses, servicemen, young, single, working adults, and the newly retired.

Strengthening the Princeton Interfaith Council is proposed by the inter-church relations group, as well as continued participation in the Princeton Interfaith Commission. It would also like to make the national Consultation on Church Union more relevant to the congregation.

The Cooperative Nursery School, founded 14 years ago, now involves 88 children, six paid teachers and meets in the three Princeton Presbyterian churches. Its study group deplores the lack of playground and foresees the need for a building or a large house with a lawn.

The Women's Association, the Couples' Club and the worship-and-music committee also have proposals and questions for consideration at the neighborhood meetings.

And the stewardship committee is asking for a 1975 membership prediction so that the various committees may plan.

It also cites the need for a fund raised by special pledges to meet the capital needs of the next five years; an endowment program, an expanded memorial fund, and a plan for possible taxation of church property.

The Wind-up. In late April, according to the church publication "First," the neighborhood suggestions will be reviewed by the committees and organizations. Early in May, the session will review the Mission Imperative goals and plan the process for achieving them.

And late in May, according to Elder Gerald A. Speedy, "We will hold the largest congregational meeting in the history of our church to adopt our commitment for the Seventies."

Youth. On another tack, the teenage concern sub-committee has decided that the high school fellowship, meeting jointly with Trinity and All Saints' Church youth, is too large. "Should its members draw back into their own churches?" Or split into several groups?"

It notes that the junior high fellowship suffers from a wide range of maturity of 7th and 8th graders, from a 50 percent annual turnover, and "from compulsion of parents for children's attendance."

The same group questions the double standard for youth and adults.

"Should its members draw back into their own churches?" Or split into several groups?" It notes that the junior high fellowship suffers from a wide range of maturity of 7th and 8th graders, from a 50 percent annual turnover, and "from compulsion of parents for children's attendance."

The same group questions the double standard for youth and adults.

Obituaries

Professor Victor Olgyay, 59, associate professor of architecture and urban planning at Princeton University, died April 21 at his home, 27 Henck Circle, after a brief illness.

A native of Budapest, Hungary, Professor Olgyay was known for what he termed the "bioclimatic approach" to architecture. He was concerned with the interaction in architecture of the natural factors of climate, light and sound.

He was educated at the Royal Hungarian Academy of Technology. With his brother, the late Aladar Olgyay, he carried on graduate study at Columbia before designing the Hungarian pavilion at the 1959 New York World's Fair. The brothers were architects for a number of buildings in Budapest, Vienna and Izmir, Turkey. They returned to the United States in 1947, joining the faculties of Notre Dame University and M.I.T. before coming to Princeton in 1953 as research associates.

They conceived and developed in Princeton's architectural laboratory the machine known as the thermoclimon, which under laboratory conditions can reproduce varying thermal conditions of any climate on buildings. Aladar subsequently left to engage in private practice.

In 1953 Victor became a research associate with the rank of associate professor and in 1956 he was named an associate professor. In recent years, he was a teacher and consultant in climatic design in Latin America and the Middle East. He was also a consultant on a wide variety of projects in this country and abroad.

Topics Of The Town

"THE HANGING BASKET" is Hospital Fete Feature. The traditional garden tent at the Princeton Hospital Fete will be keyed by a profusion of colorful plants trailing from hanging baskets. The Fete is for Saturday, June 13, at the fete grounds on Washington Road.

"The Hanging Basket," as the garden section is called, will offer many varieties of flowering plants, such as purple morning glories, white and red geraniums, blue lobelia, orange lantana and yellow marigolds.

There will also be a selection of books on horticulture and demonstrations of the use of unique floral containers by committee members.

Local Nora is chairman. Co-chairman is Mrs. R. B. Aall.

Gardeners will find tools, safe or wicker, decorative flower pots, bird baths, animal garden ornaments and hammocks, and wicker garden accessories.

One-shaped ivory topiary right out of a Regency garden will be available. Boring will not only be on sale, but a bonus of a free bag will be given to anyone with a $20 purchase.

The committee has arranged that cars may be driven up to the tent to facilitate removal of purchases. It also reminds gardeners that purchases at the fete are tax deductible.

THREE HERE ARE NAMED

To Study Tax Reform, Governor William T. Cahill has appointed his predecessor, Richard J. Hughes, along with University President Robert G. Cohen and Princeton attorney Archibald S. Alexander, Jr., to the 23-man New Jersey Tax Policy Commission.

The group is expected to review the state's tax structure, from sources to expenditures and make recommendations for future improvements. An overhaul of the existing "inequitable" structure is "long overdue," the governor said in creating the committee by a recent executive order.

The group will have the power to conduct public hearings in its search for a more equitable distribution of the burden of state costs. Interim reports will be issued as the detailed study progresses.

PERSEVERANCE PAYS OFF

For 19 Rock Marathon winner, three years of finishing as "also rans" in the annual Rock Marathon Contest at the Princeton Hospital Fete fortunately wasn't enough to discourage members of the "Null Set." The rock group was back in the competition for the fourth time last June, and this time captured top honors.

"Winning was 95% of the world to us. It was really an accomplishment we had been striving for," commented lead guitarist Bob Korman recently. "After we won, everyone knew us when we mentioned the band's name and remembered we had won at the Fete. It gave us excellent exposure to contemporaries and older people."

The band's name, however, was soon to be changed. The winning group of Korman, David Mack, Bob Severson and Todd Marshall was forced to break up when they went off to college in the fall. But, Korman, lead guitarist, and Mack, drums, at American University and Severson, organ, at nearby George Washington University were able to regroup.

Added to this nucleus were Allyn Love, bass, a senior at Princeton Day School, and Hugh Downing, guitar, a junior high school teacher in Montgomery Township.

Now known as the "Phoenix," because of the myth of the Phoenix rising from the ashes to rebuild her city, the group plays in the Princeton area and in Washington, D.C., at the universities. Practice sessions in Princeton or Washington are held every weekend the band does not have an engagement.

All 11 members of the band are serious musicians and hope to turn professional, keep the group intact.

Under the motto "new rock sound," the band is striving "to raise ourselves above our old music." In Korman's words, "We are attempting to scan the whole horizon and pick the best music." The group no longer wants to imitate the big name bands, but seeks to develop its own sound. Also Korman says that they do their own arranging and are beginning to write some of their own material; and in general, this material, he believes, "is more complex than the old 'Null Set.'"

The entry deadline has been extended and any band interested in auditioning for this year's Rock Marathon Contest should call John Van Cleave, 921-6666 by Friday.

WHERE . . .

But at Country Antiques can you find . . .
Bronze Pekingese (Cellini studios) signed by Sally Dunham, circa 1900.
An early sampler dated 1768, therefore a truly rare one in reasonable condition considering its age.
Quaint and appealing painting of young student and a printing of the Ten Commandments on an old hand hem-stitched linen handkerchief, well framed and probably dated about 1800.
A double size lap desk or most likely a captain's desk; brass name plate and corners, perfect condition, complete as to ink well and absurdly attractive pen wiper (interesting because of early pieces of fabric).
A small glass bottle, blown, tear drop stopper-about size of liquor decanter—certainly very early, possibly Spieget.

Do you have a European holiday
on your desk?
...or a Rand-McNally atlas?

Several weeks ago, all Tip-Top customers of The Thorne Pharmacies got a piece of blue paper with their statement on which was a six-digit number. This was not just another enclosure. It was a chance to win an all expense-paid trip for two to Lucerne and Vienna. There are eight (8) lucky numbers posted in each store. Each of these is entitled to a beautiful Rand-McNally atlas and not many have been claimed. From these winners will be chosen three trips for two. (There are other pharmacies participating) It's for real . . . two years ago, a lucky couple from Nassau Street saw London, Amsterdam and Brussels as guests of Tip-Top and Thorne's. May 3rd is the last day . . . so dig out that letter and come in for a look. Your number may have been posted.
